

A Special Gift Of Love in D.C.

Patients at Daly City's St. Francis Heights Convalescent Hospital will receive a gift of "LOVE" tomorrow afternoon.

Library Outreach Volunteers, Etc. (LOVE) is a special service of the Peninsula Library System. Daly City's LOVE project will introduce its services in a special program at 2:30 Thursday.

Daly City Community Service Librarian Ed Cavallini explained that the hospital program will be an attempt to help the patients learn more about the city's outreach services through the library system. Included will be assistance from local Girl Scout troops. Also planned are the introduction of cassette tape players and cassette recordings which were obtained through a grant from the Daly City Lion's Club and are available for patients to check out at the hospital.

The LOVE project is a simple one, Cavallini said. Federal grants have enabled the Peninsula Library System to initiate programs for persons who could not normally get to the local library on their own. Volunteers in all San Mateo County cities except South San Francisco and Menlo Park, work through the system in aiding shut-ins make use of libraries without going directly to them.

A variety of special equipment is available including movie projectors, magnifiers, and records.

"We have people going to convalescent hospitals showing films," the director stated. He noted they usually are well attended and range from short travel and sports features to old silent movies. Full length feature films also are available but generally are not used because "the patients' attention span is not long enough."

"In Daly City library, our part of the program is to find people who need help," Cavallini declared. Hospitals are easily identified and volunteers are sent out with books and records, to help entertain and assist patients. However, Cavallini noted the program has had difficulty in identifying individuals who could use the LOVE project service in their own homes.

"We think there are a lot of people who

Inflation, Rain Blamed for Hike In Pool Costs

This year's unusually heavy rains coupled with rising prices of construction materials are seen as the prime causes for escalating costs of building a swimming pool at Westmoor High School in Daly City.

William Chapman, president of Kirker-Chapman Associates, architects and engineers for the joint city-school district pool venture, said recent bids received on the project "came as a shock" to him.

He had expected some increases and had included a two percent inflation margin in his estimates last year when he assured city and school representatives his firm could build the pool within the $700,000 allocated.

But the nearest bid was $235,113 over the top estimates of $700,000.

Only three bids were received by Chapman.

The reason, according to the San Francisco engineer, is that heavy winter and spring rains which drenched the Bay Area put construction companies behind schedule on other projects.

For that reason many did not bid on the swimming pool job.

Of the three bids received by Chapman, the lowest was from G. J. Amoroso of Foster City at $935,113.

Close behind was J. H. Barnhart of Santa Clara at $939,333 and Winn Construction Company of Lafayette with a bid of $982,313.

Two years ago the plan to build a pool at Westmoor ran into a similar cost problem when the architectural firm of Haines, Tatarian and Associates informed the city and school board a pool could be built to their specifications for some $750,000, plus another $72,000 for optional equipment.

Bids came in for almost double the amount the firm had estimated.

The pool project lay stagnant for almost a year, until a committee made up of interested citizens, school and city government representatives revived it. Chapman had assured both boards in mid-1972 that he felt the pool, with a few modifications, could be built within the budgeted amount.

And he felt it would be open for public use within a year.

But that was before the current inflationary trend hit the building industry and construction costs zoomed to new highs in the Bay Area.

The cost over-runs came as little surprise to those in the industry.

Local construction firms had earlier this year predicted material costs that sent the bid noting wages had remained "about the same."

Chapman told The Post he believed it was the "general escalation of construction material costs" that sent the bid over the top.

The officials and Chapman plan to go over individual costs in order to get a better idea where the price discrepancies lay.

Jefferson Union High School Supt. Edward Morgan noted that costs for structural steel had doubled, according to bids received.

"Construction prices throughout the nation have climbed faster and higher in recent months than at any other time in construction history," Chapman said.

The matter has been shelved for further study by all sides concerned.

Night For Praise In Daly City

It was a night for commending people in Daly City Monday.

First to be commended by the city council was outgoing Personnel Commissioner John J. Flynn, who has served on the city's personnel board for the past six years.

Flynn, a lieutenant with the California Highway Patrol, has been transferred to Lake County. He is the CHP's youngest ever commander.

The council unanimously passed a resolution praising Flynn's work for the city over the years noting "the city has regretfully received the resignation" of Flynn and wishing him "every success in his future endeavors."

His wife, Neil, and son, Daly City policeman, John Jr., were in the audience to witness their long-time friend and former Mayor Bernard Lycett present the outgoing commissioner a framed resolution.

In parting, Flynn said it had been "a pleasure to serve this city" and he advised residents to "get involved with what's happening in your city."

The council also commended two local boys — Richard Bagnall and Bob Bryan — on their making Eagle Scout.

The resolutions said the youths best exemplified "the true qualities of our American youth."

Mammini to Quit After This Term

Former South San Francisco Mayor Frank Mammini revealed today that he will resign as councilman after his three years term of office is completed no matter what the outcome of Tuesday's special city election.

Mammini is a strong supporter of the controversial VTN program which was halted recently when the contracting firm pulled out of the city. He sides in council debates with Councilman Warren Steinkamp and is opposed by Councilmen Pat Ahern and William Borba.

"I am an advocate of no more than two terms for any politician. Any man who runs beyond eight years can't be a representative of the people. He becomes a representative of a minority asking for special favors. He has lost his ability to be able to fight for what is right for all the people."

"I'm only going to be a politician for three more years," says Mammini. "The city is going to continue long after that. If I can't do something during an eight-year term to make the city move, then I haven't accomplished a thing and better get out."

If VTN failed then it failed because we (on the council) failed to make people understand that we were representing all of the taxpayers. Certainly nothing involving VTN has hurt one single taxpayer," he said.

The theory of outside firms operating specific functions of government is not something new. It, however, had never been attempted on the scale it was tried in South San Francisco.

"The biggest mistake this city has ever made is that its councilmen have lulled the residents into believing that they got a real great deal in a tax rate of 91 cents per $100 assessed valuation," he stated. "And it's not true. It isn't true because they've deferred taking care of city problems. Each year, to keep up the front of a stable tax rate, we are constantly depleting our reserves."

"Per capita, South San Francisco has more employees than any other city on the Peninsula," charges Mammini.

He points out, using figures of a year ago, that South San Francisco has 347 employees for its 47,000 people, whereas Daly City, with a population of 70,000 has 350 employees. Pacifica with a population of 37,000 has 172 employees and San Bruno with a population of 37,000 has 159 employees, according to Mammini.

According to Mammini, probably the most important capital improvement matter now before the council is a new police facility. It's been before the council for three years.

"I keep hearing the same story," says Mammini, "pay-as-you-go, pay-as-you-go. If we're going to pay-as-you-go or that building, we're going to be completely overruled with crime before the building is up."

"The need for a new police facility was actually recognized

Ex-Football Player Shot In Daly City

Former NFL defensive back Edwin Macon was in satisfactory condition today at a San Francisco hospital after being shot by his wife of 28 years during a family dispute early Sunday morning.

Macon, 46, was shot in the left thigh when a 25-caliber automatic handgun his wife was holding discharged, police said. The former football player was taken to Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco by Mercy Ambulance for surgery and later transferred to the Geary Avenue Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco.

Macon had played various defensive back positions for the Oakland Raiders during that team's first year (1960); half-back for the Chicago Bears in the 1950s. He was a graduate of University of the Pacific, where he was a defensive back.

Police said the shooting occurred at the couple's Westmoor Avenue home in Daly City during a heated dispute.

It was reported that Macon allegedly hit his wife, Jessie, and threatened her with a knife.

In an effort to protect herself she brandished the weapon and it discharged, police said.

Macon has been employed as a longshoreman in recent years.

New Program At Schools By DC Police

Daly City police are now attempting to reduce animosities they say exist between police and students by conducting a series of free wheeling classroom talks without prepared scripts.

Lt. Phil LaBruzzo said his department had failed in earlier attempts to get together with students by staging a series of classroom talks the department felt would hold the interest of the students.

Now, at the suggestion of a Jefferson High School students uniformed police officers visit classrooms without a prepared talk and discuss any subject introduced by students.

The earlier series failed, LaBruzzo said, because the students were not all given the chance to participate.

Following some experimentation, the idea of a free wheeling discussion inside a classroom between police and students, was adopted in all Daly City High Schools.

It later was expanded to cover seventh and eighth grade classes.

Although no special format is followed in these "rap" sessions, an occasional talk is prepared in advance to "kind of get the ball rolling," one officer explained.

New Miss San Bruno Is Mormon Choirgirl

By WILL E. THOMAS

Somewhere over the High Sierra, a Mormon choirgirl became "Miss San Bruno" as the Airport City climaxed its annual week-long salute to aviation Saturday.

Elaine Bule, 17, a would-be dental hygienist, now a Crestmoor High School senior who is active with her family in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, donned a tiara aboard a cruising United Air Lines DC 10.

She was one of three contestants who paraded up and down the aisles for more than 220 airborne spectators. Runners-up were Debra Shoup, 17, and April Adams, 19.

They were judged in street-wear and swimsuits provided by local merchants.

The San Bruno Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the aviation industry during "Aviation Week," sponsors the annual contest, now held in conjunction with the annual excursion flight.

This year's outing was a mid-morning flight which attracted Mayor Marge Kozkowski and other community leaders, as well as leading business and professional persons.

In addition to champagne, the passengers were served cake, to denote the 25th anniversary of United's establishment of its San Francisco International Airport maintenance facilities at San Bruno.

New Challenge To SSF Election Contribution

A new challenge to the legality of South San Francisco's city employees' union's donation of $500 to the campaign of Terry Mirri featured Monday night's election eve meeting of the city council.

Dion Dubois, local citizen who two weeks ago had asked that Dist. Atty. Keith Sorenson be asked for an opinion on the donation asked last night that an impartial out-of-town attorney be consulted for an opinion on the legality of the contribution.

Sorenson wrote the city that he would not prosecute the case under the State Government Code since it carries no penal sanctions. It would be up to City Atty. John Noonan, however, to act under the city ordinance governing political activities, which does contain penal sanctions.

Sorenson had concluded his letter with, "I frankly do not know whether the Supreme Court would uphold the validity of either your ordinance or the Government Code section."

"We have a city ordinance that states very clearly," Dubois said last night, "that no candidate gets money from city employees."

In urging that an outside attorney be consulted, Dubois added that the council should wait until the election adds the fifth man to the council.

"I don't believe in political smears just before election," Councilman Bill Borba exclaimed.

He asked Dubois whom he worked for and whom he was supporting for council. Dubois denied that he had stated that he worked for the city — saying merely that he was a "public employee." He worked for the Jefferson Union High School District, he explained.

"Who I am and whom I support is not the issue," Dubois explained.

"The ordinance was outdated many years ago," Councilman Pat Ahern declared. Recent court decisions, Ahern held, gave public employees the right to take part in every kind of political activity.

Dubois asked why the council did not get the ordinance off the books.

"I move we get it off right now," Ahern declared. However, no move was made to follow up the suggestion.

The meeting was just a little over two hours, one of the shortest regular meetings for South San Francisco for many months, as everyone wondered what today's election will do to the balance of council power.

Borba and Councilman Frank Mammini again clashed over the city's monthly bills. Borba hitting dinners for city officials. When Borba said he was voting yes on the bills, except for two — on the dinner and for the VTN engineering firm, Mammini retorted that Borba could not split his vote; he had to approve the bills, or not approve them — or to amend the motion, to exclude them. Borba then voted no, but the bills were approved, 3-1.

Among resolutions, the council urged that the Defense Department change the phasing-out period at Hunters Point Shipyard from one to four years, and that federal agencies embark on a reemployment and retraining program for all employees. Mayor Pro-Tem Warren Steinkamp, who is a planner-estimator at the shipyard, denied current rumors that he is leaving town as a result. Ship jobs are to be shifted to Bremerton, Wash., Long Beach and Mare Island, he said, indicating that his future was uncertain.

Only at one point did it seem that the council meeting might become bitter.

City Attorney Gale Dreisbach recommended that an engineering contract for a new police communication building be awarded to what was — in effect — the high bidder.

Actually, only one firm made an offer for the job, Wilsey and Ham of Foster City, for $5,850 — 11.7 per cent of construction cost. However, Dreisbach told the council that VTN — which had recently resigned its contract with the city for all engineering activity.

SSF Nabs 2 On Theft Try

Two youths were arrested by South San Francisco police Saturday on a charge of attempted burglary — and are being investigated on the possibility of a second attempt, police said.

Officers answered an alarm at the Dayton Tire Co. on Produce Avenue and found signs of an attempted entry. The screen pried. A black truck that did not belong there was found in the parking lot.

Two hours later, two youths started to enter the truck and were nabbed by Officer Fred Carelli. A 19-year-old Moss Beach youth, David Henry, was released on his own recognizance and was to appear in Municipal Court in South San Francisco today. A 17-year-old El Granada boy was cited to juvenile court, and released to his parents.

The previous night, police answering an alarm at Keith's Tire Warehouse on South Airport Boulevard saw someone running from inside the place — but failed to catch him.

could use the service that don't know about it," he asserted. The director noted the special service could be used by any bedridden individual such as a person with a broken leg or by handicapped persons such as the blind. He emphasized the service is not just for the elderly.

Presently the Daly City library LOVE project aids only five individuals in their homes although they have the capabilities of helping many more.

"We are interested particularly in people who need the service," he declared. "We have no trouble with the hospital. Trying to find people is our real problem."

Cavallini explained the LOVE project actually is not a new one. It was funded in July 1971 and began in early 1972. However, tomorrow's program will be the first organized approach at spreading information and interest in the LOVE project.

"Our volunteers come from all different sources," he noted. Some are members of the Friends of the Daly City Library club. Others are persons referred from the San Mateo County Volunteer Bureau. Persons can contact Cavallini at the Westlake Library Branch if they wish to participate or if they can use the service.

"In fact, anyone that calls in from anywhere in the county will be put in touch with the service from their city," he contended.

neering services — would be instead of the industrial section, willing to do the job for $1,200, for that very reason.

Steinkamp also wondered if Macy's were not violating its use permit by holding sales more than once a year.

"You question the luncheon bill, yet you want to spend $1,200 more for an engineering project?" Mammini laughed. "I can't believe it!"

Borba reminded him that Dreisbach recommended Wilsey and Ham. Mammini asked him why.

"Because VTN withdrew from the city... It was a fiasco! I don't want any more of it."

"If we can get the job done for $1,200 less," Mammini persisted, "we'd have to be idiotic to spend $1,200 more. No offense, Mr. Dreisbach."

Dreisbach urged the council to make a decision at the meeting, in order to qualify for federal aid.

The council finally voted unanimously to give the job to VTN — on condition that VTN agree to the same specifications as Wilsey and Ham.

As a final measure last night, Steinkamp raised the possibility of banning Macy's warehouse sales. The sale last Sunday clogged traffic on El Camino Real, he complained. He noted that he had protested Macy's locating on El Camino Real, in-

Subdivision Map OK'd

The San Bruno Planning Commission Monday night reviewed a proposed subdivision map calling for single family residences in the Crestmoor Highlands area, bounded roughly by Glenview Drive, Earl Avenue and Skyline Boulevard.

Applicant Joe Welch estimated the date for work to begin on the 3.920 acre site as August 15. He estimated completion for November 15.

The grade and fill operation, according to the tentative map, would require the exportation of approximately 4,650 cubic yards of earth. The city staff is studying the proposal.

lowed for free estimates of costs and methods of financing a new police facility. The proposal died because members of the council disagreed about the use of bonding.

"As long as we have negative thinking, we're never going to progress," assures Mammini.

"Another example of what I'm talking about is the Colma Creek situation. We've gone from 5, 10, 15, to 20-million dollars as price tags for flood control, because no one thought progressively 20 years ago.

He claims that it is a necessity to look at new financing methods of producing what is needed today, and not pay-as-you-go for use 10 or 15 years later.

"If someone were to price out the additional cost of the proposed new police facility, based on square footage and land appreciation just in the past three years that funding has been bandied about, it probably would be found that the cost has increased at least half-a-million dollars," he said.

Mammini, about three years ago, presented a report to the council on bonding procedures. His proposal would have al-

D. C. District Rehire Teachers

At least 15 of those 24 teachers fired by the Jefferson Elementary School District may be rehired before the month is out.

This startling good news was presented to the school board at its regular meeting last night in Daly City.

But almost in the same breath the school board authorized Classified Employee Director David Pia to begin proceedings to fire 12 classified employees because of federal financial cutbacks.

Pia said some of the people affected have been on the job for six years.

He said a "bumping" system would have to be used if the terminations were carried out.

"Bumping" is a means of keeping those persons with tenure on the job, while those at the bottom of the longevity list are terminated.

Pia had first asked the school board to allocate some $90,000 to the classified employees so the firings would not have to be carried out.

This request was turned down after Mrs. Dorothy Adams asked assistant superintendent for business, Roger Barthuli, if the district "can lay its hands on $90,000?"

Barthuli shook his head and the board gave Pia permission to start proceedings to terminate the employees.

The good news concerning the rehiring of teachers was presented by Dr. Vin Stratton who explained the district had 34 openings at the present time — 19 of which were already under contract.

This left 15 current vacancies to be filled from a lottery list made up last week after the teachers were fired.

The teachers were fired because of declining student enrollments and a bleak financial picture and uncertainty over what state and federal funding the school district will or will not get in the upcoming year.

Supt. Frank Greenwood said he was still hopeful that the entire 24 teachers will be rehired before the end of the month.

On the other hand, the district's classified employees (typists, custodians, specialized instructors) were dealt a blow when the government pulled the rug out from under several school programs.

It was expected the chairman of the board, Albert Collett, will call a special meeting within the week to discuss authorizing the rehiring of the fired teachers.

Teachers' Representative Jim Cannon had earlier blasted the district for the firings and asked why none of the "new administrators" had been terminated.

"They (the district) recently hired new administrators to the tune of $100,000 a year, but not one of them was terminated to save the district money. Instead, Mr. Greenwood offers a 'balanced budget' by firing teachers," Cannon said.

Among the administrators Cannon referred to in his charges are three consultants for various programs, the promotion of a principal to a consultant's post, the assignment of an aide to the principal of George Washington School, and the installation of a portable classroom behind the Administration Building at 101 Lincoln, to house some of the upgraded personnel.

Test Pilot Featured at San Bruno Aviation Fete

The crowd watched, murmuring ohs and ahs, as the B-70 came in for a landing.

Because the landing gear was made operative with a paper clip and the brakes were out, the landing was wobbly and the wheels caught fire.

"There are many surprises when you get in the air," explained Joe Cotton, test pilot for United Air Lines, to the group watching this special film at Thursday's seventh annual Aviation Week luncheon at the airport Hilton Hotel.

Cotton, 51, a former U.S. Air Force test pilot, gave a presentation adequately sprinkled with facts and humor.

He noted that being a test pilot didn't differ much from any other vocation in that "everybody wants instant success." And in the case of being a test pilot, like other professions, "if the new idea doesn't work, you go back to the old one."

On the more serious side, Cotton emphasized that "you couldn't find anyone more appreciative of aviation, or an airport, than yours truly."

He gave three reasons why. "It's my livelihood. They're dynamic; always on the move, always involved in building, and the challenge of building keeps us going; and because of the happy faces. That's real important," he said.

Cotton was on a flight that morning before the luncheon. "I had to check out a plane that was hit by lightning to make sure it was fit for human occupancy," he quipped.

Bill Wilson, president of the sponsoring San Bruno Chamber of Commerce, said that as far as the chamber was concerned "the most important thing is to maintain a rapport with the airport." Councilman Tony Governale, filling in for Mayor Margaret Kozkowski, said "the airport has given color and feeling to San Bruno."

He praised it as a good economic base, and noted that it "creates certain problems," but then he added that the airport "is a friend which services and benefits" San Bruno.

One went to Cotton; a second to Norm Merkle, chief controller at the airport control tower; a third to San Bruno Councilman George Corey for his work with and for the chamber, and the fourth to "the people at United Air Lines who have helped us so much in the past."

The luncheon was a continuation of a week-long program commemorating aviation, and in particular this year honoring the 25th anniversary of the United Air Lines Maintenance Base.

Probation on Bookie Count

Howard Arthur Swann, South San Francisco bartender, was placed on two years' probation, received a suspended one-year county jail term and was fined $500 when he appeared before Superior Court Judge Gerald E. Ragan Wednesday for sentencing on a bookmaking charge.

Swann, 58, pleaded guilty to the charge last month.

The defendant was arrested last January by the county Organized Crime Unit following a bribery investigation involving bookmaking charges.

Pacifica Officials Discuss Beach Aid

Three Pacifica councilmen met on May 15 in Sacramento with State Director of Parks and Recreation William Penn Mott — hoping to work out some kind of state aid for Pacifica's beaches. Whether they succeeded was not reported.

Up to now, Mott has refused his consent to any plan for state purchase of Pacifica's beaches — most of them now in private hands — on the grounds that they are urban beaches and are too small and unsuitable for state ownership.

The councilmen were Mayor Aubrey Lumley, Vice Mayor Don Halverson and the immediate past mayor, Grace McCarthy. Lumley and Halverson were attending the session of the new councilmen and mayor's section of the League of California Cities; Mrs. McCarthy took part in a panel on finance.

The trio met with Assemblyman Lou Papan Monday. Among issues discussed was the reappointment bill, expected to come to a vote later this week. Most versions of the bill put Pacifica in the same district as San Francisco, much to the Pacificans' displeasure.

The next regular meeting of the city council, normally slated for the fourth Monday, will be held instead on May 29, because of Memorial Day, according to City Mgr. David Thompson.

Meanwhile, the third budget session of the city council is scheduled for this Sunday, 1-5 p.m. To be reviewed will be two of the most expensive departments, police and fire, plus community development, finance and city attorney. This will be followed on May 22 by a session devoted solely to the Parks, Beaches and Recreation Department. Both sessions will be held at Terra Nova High School cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

Open Forum On Relief Bill Slated

The Governmental Research Council of San Mateo County has announced that it will sponsor an open forum on Senate Bill 90 (Property Tax Relief Act of 1972) and on the proposed follow-up legislation June 1 at 2 p.m. GRC is a non-profit, non-partisan organization dedicated to promoting efficiency, economy and equity in local government.

Invited to conduct the forum is Tom Willoughby, a consultant to the California Assembly Local Government Committee in Sacramento.

"Mr. Willoughby is not only thoroughly knowledgeable about SB90," said GRC Executive Director Chuck Strauch, "but also about the so-called 'clean-up' bill that is being drafted at the present time. Indeed, he is assisting in the drafting of that bill."

Strauch continued to say, "This bill has far-reaching consequences for local governmental bodies and subsequently for taxpayers. This forum is presented by GRC as a service to public officials, citizens, and taxpayers. Invitations have been specifically sent to local elected officials and administrators of the county, cities, special districts, and school districts. The public is encouraged to attend as well."

The location of the forum: General Electric Auditorium, 1649 Adim Road, Burlingame, game.

Theft Foiled

A wakeful brother and sister foiled the burglary of their home early Thursday morning according to South San Francisco police.

The home was that of Mrs. Joan Lynch on Diamond Street in South San Francisco.

According to police the sister told her brother, at 1:30 a.m., that she heard a sound down in the garage. While he was checking it out, she called out to him that she heard a noise on the sidewalk.

Sure enough, a dark-colored car roared off — and the television set which is kept in the garage was sitting on the sidewalk.

A number of San Bruno residents and Bay Area environmental groups Thursday filed a legal petition to determine whether San Francisco's recent re-approval of an up-dated 10-year-old expansion plan has had sufficient consideration.

Petitioners in the action, filed in San Francisco Superior Court by Attorney William Brinton, included:

Urban and Jean Whitaker of San Bruno, Sylvia Gregory of San Bruno, Kenneth and Sally Cooper of Woodside, Walter Stanton, the Ecology Center, San Francisco Tomorrow, and Friends of the Earth.

Named as defendants were the San Francisco County Board of Supervisors, and the San Francisco Airports Commission, plus "Does 1 through 20."

Gil Baillie, executive director of the Ecology Center, called the action a "lawsuit."

Attorney Brinton called it "a petition to determine the validity" of San Francisco's official approval of the current $396 million expansion plan, and the environmental impact report for that plan.

Brinton said the petition asks a judge to determine whether the "revenue bonds" approved to finance a portion of the expansion are legal.

He said the petition would not stop growth at the airport, and that he did not believe it would have any effect on the un-issued portion of a $98 million general obligation bond issue approved by San Francisco voters in 1967, for an earlier version of the expansion plan.

The action "does not seek injunctive relief," Brinton said, it seeks "declaratory relief."

It contends that the four-volume environmental impact report prepared for the Airports Commission and approved by that commission and the San Francisco Board of Supervisors, was "legally deficient."

"We are filing this lawsuit to protect San Franciscans and Peninsula residents from the monumental environmental impact of the airport expansion plan," he said.

Connie Parrish, representing Friends of the Earth, said "it does not seem rational to plan now to double the capacity of the airport and more than double the amount of fuel consumed at a time when talk of the energy crisis and rationing is becoming part of our daily vocabulary."

She said the expansion plan would "stimulate unwanted and unnecessary growth in the Bay Area, particularly on the Peninsula."

Baillie said the groups had finished their own expert reviews of the airport's environmental impact reports, and said the technical reports would be forthcoming within a few weeks.

Asked whether the group legal action would close San Francisco International he said it would not.

The Top Two Contenders For Sheriff

By BOB HEMINGWAY

Do San Mateo County's two assistant sheriffs, Eugene E. Stewart and Macdonald U. Craik, have the inside track for appointment to succeed their boss, Earl B. Whitmore, as sheriff when he officially retires July 17?

Whitmore believes that they are the only two persons qualified to assume the reins, and he has so notified the County Board of Supervisors, which will make the appointment of a successor.

However, the board has thrown open the doors, inviting one and all who are interested in the $28,890 a year job to submit applications for the position.

That doesn't mean, though, that it won't be either "Gene" Stewart or "Scotty" Craik who will end up with the job.

Both are veteran members of the sheriff's department, working their way up the ladder to their present posts.

Stewart, 52, a native of Iowa, was appointed a deputy sheriff July 16, 1947.

He was at the rank of captain when he was called upon to prepare the departmental budget, the sheriff basing his decision on Stewart's pre-World War II experience as a cost accountant.

Stewart also was placed in charge of establishing the sheriff's crime laboratory and has become a recognized expert in the field of physical evidence.

Stewart also served as coordinator of the police basic school at College of San Mateo and has served as an instructor in several law enforcement subjects.

He attended the 12-week FBI National Academy training session in 1967, and had attended two re-training sessions since that time.

In his present position, Stewart, with a vast background of various training courses and experience, has been designated officer-in-charge when Whitmore was absent, directing the department's day-to-day operations.

He also is the sheriff's press representative, holding five-day-a-week press conferences with representatives of the media.

Craik, on the other hand, has had a much more traumatic experience as a sheriff's officer.

Born in Scotland in 1926, he comes from a long line of law enforcement officials. His father, grandfather and great-grandfather were constables in Ayrshire, Scotland.

Prior to joining the sheriff's office November 17, 1951, Craik was a member of the Redwood City police department for two years.

Not only did Craik have to talk a disgruntled husband out of a shotgun aimed at the deputy's body in a 1952, after Craik had gone to investigate a purported gun trap the suspect had set up for his wife, he was wounded several times by a man to whose house he had gone to serve a routine traffic warrant.

Serving as a bailiff for now-retired Municipal Court Judge Edward McAuliffe while he was recovering from his wounds, Craik attended law school at night and was graduated with a law degree in 1960.

In his present position, Craik is in charge of administrative services, including personnel training, planning and fiscal research.

'Stewart and Craik both served in the armed forces during World War II, Stewart with the Navy and Craik with the Army.

Ford Chooses Top Salesmen

Donald Dawson and Vincent Meo of Turner Motors in San Bruno are members of Ford Division's exclusive 300-500 Club, an organization of top Ford salesmen.

Dawson also received recently the Top Hatter award, the division's highest salesman award. About 525 of 27,000 Ford salesmen in the United States earned the Top Hatter citation in 1972.

Membership in the 300-500 Club was based on individual sales success in the 1972 calendar year.

Man Falls To Death

A 34-year-old carpenter fell to his death Thursday on a South San Francisco construction project.

He was Thomas Eccles of Winton, Calif.

His body was found by fellow employees on the concrete floor of an addition now under construction by the Fuller, O'Brien Paint Co., whose large plant is located at 450 East Grand Avenue.

He was employed by the Industrial Roofing Co. of Hayward, and was working by himself in framing a skylight. There were no witnesses to the accident, so no one knows how he happened to fall. He fell a reported 28 feet.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at South San Francisco Kaiser Hospital. Eccles is survived by his wife and three children, according to the coroner's office. His body was still at the San Mateo County morgue today.

D.C. Murder Trial Slated

Three San Francisco men — charged with murder and assault with a deadly weapon in a Daly City gang fight last month — pleaded not guilty Wednesday before Superior Court Judge Gerald E. Ragan.

Trial was set for July 2 by Judge Ragan who also agreed to hear a motion June 7 for separate trials.

The suspects, all from San Francisco's Excelsior District, were arrested after the bloody gang-style shooting April 1 in front of a Daly City home in which one youth was shot to death and four others were severely wounded. Killed was Kerry McDowell, 18, of Daly City. The defendants are Mark W. Garcia, 18, and Edwin J. Olmos and Ronald DeLara, both 20.

Millbrae Ponders Traffic Problems

Millbrae councilmen aired a plan to solve the long-standing traffic problem at Millbrae and Aviator Avenues on May 15 and found that the proposed solution is hardly satisfactory to anybody.

Eliminating a left-turn from the intersection would not only reduce traffic hazards, councilmen were told, it will also eliminate 45 per cent of the business at the service station at that corner.

Spokesmen for the service station, the oil company they buy gasoline from, and owners of the land the station is built on, all objected to the closing of Aviator Avenue and elimination of the left turn.

Residents of the Bayside Manor subdivision said that they would be happy to have the left turn eliminated, could live with the closing of Aviator Avenue, but would prefer that it be kept open for right turn traffic.

City Engineer Val Padovan explained that the hearing was to discuss both the roadway design and the "environmental impact report" of the project which is being considered for federal funding as an improvement to traffic safety on Millbrae Avenue.

To achieve greater safety, he said, the Aviator Avenue intersection at the westerly end of the Millbrae Avenue Freeway overpass, would be eliminated, and Rollins Road would be extended to allow entry and exit to the Bayside Manor subdivision served by Aviator.

Padovan and his aide, Lyle Kennedy, said the Rollins Road extension, and the closing of Aviator, would cost about $200,000 with the federal and state funds picking up about two-thirds.

The engineer's plan included two proposals for ending Aviator Avenue at Millbrae Avenue: One would completely block entry from Aviator into Roy and Ray's Chevron station at the corner, the other would permit drivers to enter the service station from Aviator but not allow them to drive past the station to Millbrae Avenue.

Roy and Ray Bianchi complained that this would "put us out of business. Standard Oil marketing attorney W. J. Hooy said the closure would "have catastrophic adverse effects."

Robert McDonald, an attorney for the service station property owner, supported the Bianchi position, and suggested the city consider "signalization" of the intersection.

Residents said they could accept traffic signals, and had been trying to get them, for years.

Engineering aide Kennedy said Rollins Road could be extended and Aviator left open, if the left turns and cross traffic were eliminated on Millbrae Avenue at Aviator.

He said "this would not be a real difficult problem" to engineer.

"It would be a real difficult problem to us," said Roy Bianchi. "It would eliminate our commercial accounts in the Burlingame industrial area, and that's 45 per cent of our business."

"What's the difference if they make left turns at Aviator, or half a block up at Rollins Road?" he asked.

Pacifica Promotion For Steve Bucknam

Steve Bucknam has been promoted from assistant city engineer to city engineer by Pacifica City Manager David Thompson.

He succeeds Dwight French, who resigned to join a Southern California consulting firm.

Bucknam came to Pacifica last October, after serving as a project engineer for three years at Newport Beach. Upon receiving his master's degree in engineering from Loyola University, he looked for a city with "a lot of place to grow" and came to Pacifica.

"I found I was right," he commented.

Bucknam was born in Los Angeles. He received bachelor of arts and civil engineering degrees from Loyola in 1967. He went to work for the State Division of Highways and the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power before settling down at Newport Beach, where he designed streets, storm drains and other projects.

During his career in Pacifica, Bucknam has supervised design of a half-dozen street paving projects. He has worked with the Planning Commission, Hillside Review Board, and Pacifica Creek Protection Committee.

He will now be concentrating on paving Pacifica's 12 miles of unpaved streets. He will be following some new concepts in street paving in which he will be getting away from the rigid pattern of parking lanes, curbs, gutters and sidewalks. Instead, the project will be tailored to the terrain as well as to the character of the neighborhood. Such devices as parking enclosures, pathways instead of sidewalks, and various types of drainage will be utilized when appropriate, he said.

The major project will be the $6 million sewer plant, outfall line and fishing pier, now nearing completion.

Bucknam has 22 persons working under him, half in engineering and half in the Department of Environmental Services.

No replacement will be made for the post of assistant city engineer, Thompson said — at least for the present time. Instead, a system new to Pacifica will be tried. Public Works Supt. Frank Sampson will be reporting directly to Thompson. Don Jeffers, recently appointed as administrative assistant to Thompson, will coordinate the activities of these departments. The effect will be to free the engineering department of much of the paper work it has been burdened with, according to Bucknam.

Bucknam is 27 and will have been married six years as of next week. He and his wife, Jody, have two sons, Mark, 5, and Peter, 1. They live in their own home on Barcelona Drive in Linda Mar.

The new city engineer has already gotten involved in civic affairs, having joined the Pacifica Jaycees. He belongs to many professional groups, including the American Public Works Association, the American Society of Civil Engineers and the American Water Works Association.

Better Business

Families On the Move

By LORENE BEASLEY

Now that the school year is nearly over, millions of American families will be on the move, relocating their families in other cities or maybe just across town.

The moving and storage business is a large industry, developed through many years of effort and representing millions of dollars of investment. Most moving companies are operated by responsible people whose desire is to protect their investment by "serving their customers, to the best of their ability. However, an investigation of the moving firm's reputation for fair dealing should be made in advance. This can be done by calling your local Better Business Bureau and inquiring about the firm's customer experience record. If you are contemplating a move we would like to suggest a few tips based on BBB files:

DO NOT move at peak periods if possible. Avoid moving the first and last days of the month, also holiday weekends. These are the times which push movers from the lowest estimates.

Many people choose their movers from the lowest estimate received. Exceptionally low bidders can often be correspondingly inefficient. They may cause delay and damage to your possessions and be very difficult to deal with when it comes to settling claims. Be sure you are adequately protected by insurance or extended carrier liability against loss or damage. Do not pack jewelry, negotiable bonds, or "in and stamp collections as movers are not liable for them. Carry them or send them to your new destination by registered mail.

THE MOVING company is not responsible for damage to anything you pack yourself. Appliances should be disconnected by professional servicemen. Refrigerators and freezers should be defrosted and disconnected at least 24-36 hours before the move and completely dry.

Be sure you are adequately protected by insurance or extended carrier liability against loss or damage.

Millbrae police have arrested 19-year-old Harry H. Hilliard on charges of growing and possessing marijuana at his 389 El Camino Real apartment.

Police said they were tipped off by two passing youngsters, who had been following a cat up the alley.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Nick Gust Enjoys A Vacation In Nevada

Along with politics and running a "tight ship" in his Rockaway Beach restaurants, The Moor and Nick's, Nick Gust takes time out for vacationing in the mountains (he only owns a portion of the Pacific Ocean) so he can relax and take in boating and fishing. Of course, an occasional trek to Nevada provides the right amount of recreation for the busy restaurateur. Considering the holiday crowds that have been flocking to this dining mecca at Pacifica, is it any wonder he finds it necessary to take a few days off. Incidentally, the lighting system along Nick Gust's beach front offers a blissful nocturnal setting as you sup after nightfall. . . . From the day of its opening, Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City has attracted a full house of the Peninsula's most discriminating connoisseurs of superb cuisine, as well as tourists with particular tastes. A leisurely atmosphere of sophistication prevails. The waitresses never rush the service, but time it to insure your prompt arrival for certain time if you are attending the nearby Circle Star Theater. However, if your evening is devoted to relaxed conversation and epicurean dining, you may prefer to just relax in the luxurious comfort of the surroundings.

MUSIC BY GEORGE — Virtuoso violinist George Liberator and his Orchestra entertain with a flair in the Tiki Lounge, Harvey's Resort Hotel, South Lake Tahoe, through June 1.

Jovanelo's Celebrates First Anniversary

Jovanelo's restaurant in San Francisco is celebrating its first anniversary and invites you to help them commemorate the occasion by coming in for a piece of cake. Familiar to connoisseurs of fine dining are owners Joe Piccini and Nello Piccinini. People in the restaurant business can be found at most any hour of the evening dining at Jovanelo's. . . . There's a new look in the Coach & Horses dining room of the Royal Coach Motor Hotel. In keeping with the design of the striking San Mateo hotel, General Manager Dave Purrington has introduced a Charles Dickens theme throughout the hotel, plus an entirely new dinner menu in the dining room. Entrees range from steaks (several cuts) to a variety of fresh seafood (including Filet Oscar and Baked Stuffed Prawns). "Beefsteak's Beef" (regular cut or English cut) is the real specialty in the Coach & Horses. Domestic and imported wines. . . . Many residents of Woodlake take advantage of the "heat packs" offered at the nearby Omelette House. These special packs allow the restaurant to prepare any omelette on the menu "to go." They stay hot and savory for up to 30 minutes.

Finocchio's New Summer Show To Be Eye-Popping

Soon to open at Finocchio's will be one of the most spectacular summer shows seen along the San Francisco after-dark sector. Fans will gasp at the fabulous wardrobes, and the dance production numbers will receive long and loud applause. Everything is going into this new revue to make it among the best to be produced at this world-famous nightclub. . . . In addition to serving pizza, which come heaped with all your favorite ingredients, Enrico Romano is also well known for his family-style Italian dinners. A owner and operator of Romano's Italian restaurant, Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, he serves a dual role — pleasing his pizza patrons as well as the dinner crowd. . . . Tiburon Tummies, The Dock, The Windjammer, El Borro, and Sam's Anchor Cafe are the five famous Tiburon restaurants from which you may choose for dining when taking the Thursday night Tiburon Champagne Dinner Cruise. The cruise also includes dancing onboard with a live band and a free champagne party. Departures are at 6:30 to 7:45 p.m. from Pier 43½ at Fisherman's Wharf. For reservations, send check to Dinner Cruise, 1714 Stockton Street, San Francisco. Saturday and Sunday lunch cruises, which leave at 12:15 p.m., will get underway June 1.

Cub, Boy Scouts

PACK NO. 259's FIESTA NIGHT featured pinatas, serapes and even a bullfight. Den 3 put on a skit with the boys as bulls, foreadors, even señoritas with flowers in their teeth to throw to the victorious fighters.

Awards included:
Den 1 — Kurt Zevas, assistant denier, bear and one gold and two silver arrows; Greg Yannazzo, bear; Den 2 — Rory Arnett, silver arrow; Den 3 — Scott Scholzen, 2 silver arrows; Den 5 — Dave Snodgrass, wolf, one gold, one silver arrow; Steve Andrews, wolf, one gold arrow; Ed Lippi, wolf.

Webelos — David Gamberg, outdoorsman; Steve Funk, geologist, aquanaut, Arrow of Light; Mitch Wu, geologist, outdoorsman, Arrow of Light; Steve King, geologist, aquanaut, outdoorsman, Arrow of Light; Scott Cuevas, aquanaut and Arrow of Light; Ruben Villar, outdoorsman.

Dens 1 and 5 displayed the Fiesta items they had made in their den meetings, including handmade serapes, hats, pinatas, baleros, guitars, and several types of games.

The Pack distributed leaflets for clean-up week to all the homes in the Broadmoor area. The ranks of the Webelos were lessened by two when Steve Funk and Scott Cuevas graduated into the Scout Troop No. 259. Rory Arnett moved up from Den 2 to Webelos.

The evening's activities ended up with the breaking of the pinatas — with all the cubs taking turns at swinging the bat while blindfolded at the goody-laden pinatas.

PACK 63 held a Chinese auction at Westmoor High School cafeteria at their May meeting.

Many valuable items were auctioned off to members and their parents.

The following cubs received awards: Den 1—Alex Au-Yeung (one gold arrow), John Robbins (one silver arrow). Den 2 — David Bowditch (Bear, Gold Arrow, Silver Arrow, Denner). David Conklin (Bear, Transfer to Webelos), Jerry McFadden (Bear, Assistant Denner). Den 3 — Bill Lum (Bear, Gold Arrow). Den 4 — Ken Abdalla (one Silver Arrow), Blake Bertling (Wolf). Dennis Platt (Silver Arrow). David Thaw (Wolf) and Jeff Zanardi (Wolf).

The events coming include the meeting June 6, the pack picnic June 10 and the A's Scout Day on the 16th.

NOW Panel on Church, Women

The United Methodist Church of Daly City will present a N.O.W.-sponsored panel discussion on women and religion, June 3, at the 10 a.m. service, to which the public is cordially invited. Panelists are Ruth Hoppin, who will focus on "Women and the Bible"; Frances Malone, with some psychological insights; and Mary Murray, telling about specific action projects.

A coffee break after the service will be followed by a question and answer period, and literature will be available. The Rev. James Current is pastor of the church, which is located at 1474 Southgate Avenue.

At D.C. Library

Original Puppets to Perform in Spanish

Original puppets will perform in Spanish in a specially designed puppet theater at the annual meeting of the Friends of the Daly City Library to be held May 24, at 8 p.m. at the Westlake Park Clubhouse, Lake Merced Blvd. north of Alemany Blvd.

The puppet show will be a feature of the Spanish heritage evening program, which is under chairmanship of Mrs. James Hough, director of The Friends. Margarita Studemesiter, Peninsula Library System librarian in charge of the system's Spanish language project, designed both the puppets and the theater. The show comes to the local scene after initial performance at Canada College.

Julia Monares (school and community liaison for bilingual students, Jefferson High School) will also contribute to the evening.

On display for the first time will be a sampling of the advance collection of three hundred volumes of children's, young adults, and adults' books and 50 records provided by the Peninsula Library System's project, funded by the federal government. Last year the Friends contributed $300.00 as a gift toward Spanish language books for the library. The Spanish collection, which will be added to and will include periodicals, will be housed in the John D. Daly Library.

At the meeting which will precede the program, a brief annual accounting will be given, including results of the recent book fair, report on the champagne reception and silver tea inaugural for the building fund, and the status of the building fund to date. Election of officers will be held. The public is cordially invited to attend this family night free of charge.

Roast Beef on Men's Agenda

Men of St. Martin's Church at 777 Southgate Ave., Daly City, will serve a roast beef dinner on the night of June 1 at the church.

The dinner will be catered and is a gift to the "One Way Fund" being established for the maintenance of Mr. Robert Rhodes, a seminarian assistant during the summer months. Tickets are available through the church office or can be bought following all services this month.

Terra Nova Topics

By DENISE BARR

Terra Nova's first "Spring Fair," held recently after school, was something of a success. As with all new activities, the fair started with a large crowd that slowly dwindled. The big attractions included the freshmen slave-selling booth, the senior cake-walk, and the booth that was open the longest, the Math Club's roulette wheel.

Senior Bob Elliot helped the freshmen as their auctioneer. Several freshmen girls (no boys) volunteered to go on a stage in the center courtyard and several members, mostly boys, yelled out their bids. The highest bid paid for a slave was about $3.75.

On Monday, the slaves had to perform such duties as carrying their master's books, or carrying the master. An item in the bulletin asked teachers to please excuse "late slaves."

The big success of the fair — the roulette wheel — was still going strong at 4:30 p.m. (the fair started at 2 p.m.). Students placed money on numbers, the wheel rolled, and the winners were paid with chips, which were turned in for prizes.

SENIOR DAVE BIER has been selected as this month's Pacifica's Rotary Club student guest of the month. Dave has been Commissioner of Athletics. Student Body secretary for two semesters, and a member of both the varsity football and baseball teams. The only comment Dave made about his first visit was, "I felt dumb standing there while a guy I didn't know talked about me."

By DENISE BARR

Terra Nova senior Cindy Silverman has received an appointment to the "America's Youth in Concert" European Concert tour.

Cindy will be traveling with the troupe to England, France, Italy, Germany and many other countries. At each stop the troupe will give a concert.

The troupe is made up of young people all over America. Cindy sent a tape of her voice to the selection committee and was chosen to go on tour. Thousands of students applied and only a small number received the appointment.

DENISE BARR, news editor of Terra Nova's quarterly publications, won honorable mention in the news entry category at the 28th Junior Scholarship Awards Luncheon sponsored by the San Francisco Press Club, May 12.

"Freaks Underground" was Miss Barr's award-winning story about drugs at T.N.

GROUND BREAKING literally started May 9 when workers from the J. N. Pinch Drilling Company started to take core samples for the planned extension of Terra Nova.

Sites of the samples were on the east side of the second floor, the west side of Portable D and Portable F.

TOM EDMISTER, Terra Nova senior, was awarded first place in the American History Symposium, May 12, at Woodside Priory School in Portola Valley. He was commended for his "demonstrated mastery in the field of historical research" and presented a $100 savings bond.

Under the War and the Economy theme, Edminster titled his paper "The contribution of the War in the Philippines to Growth of Economic Imperialism." It dealt with "forces which had pushed the United States towards intervention in the Philippines during the Spanish-American War. It showed how commercial interests operated to their own advantage in relation to the Philippines after the expansionists had laid the groundwork for economic penetration."

The contest itself consisted of two sessions: In the morning session students were put in three groups of six students each and all papers were examined for ten minutes by a panel of three judges, college professors from Bay Area schools.

Each student was questioned by the judges on topics relating to their individual papers. The two top students from each group went on to the afternoon session, which was a roundtable discussion with five professors, dealing with "Interpreting American History."

The annual Business Skills contest, with all schools of the Jefferson Union High School District competing, was held at Oceana on May 5.

Fourteen Terra Nova students were awarded. The students and their awards: Kelly Monin, first place, advanced shorthand; Janell Bontrager, third place, advanced shorthand; Louanne Moldovan, honorable mention, advanced shorthand, and first place in spelling;

Annette Stepp, third place, beginning shorthand; Irene Fletcher, honorable mention, beginning shorthand; Debbie Handel, honorable mention, beginning shorthand; Vince O'Brien, honorable mention, vocabulary and accounting.

Prizes such as rings, radios, etc., were given to the place winners.

'We Get a Lot of Funny Looks'

WESTMOOR HIGH's Principal Clay Kollmann goes over school's newspaper, The Rampage, with P-TA president Mrs. George Thompson and Ways and Means chairman, Mrs. James Wyatt, after P-TA donated funds for the newspaper, as well as the student welfare fund and provided scholarships for five graduating seniors. (Post Photo)

Charles Chism, 14, of Colma, presented his mother with an exciting Mother's Day gift — a family vacation aboard the PSA Hotel Queen Mary in Long Beach. Charles wrote:

"My mom and I sure get a lot of funny looks when we walk through Serramonte Mall. You see, I'm black and my 'mom's' white. Several years ago my 'mom' asked me to live with her and the family, after my real mother went away and my dad got killed.

"Well, my life really brightened up. She has given me much of her time, a great deal of attention, and most of all, her love. She has given me a new way of life, a new family, and a chance for a good future. It's really fun at home on week nights. 'Mom' helps me with homework and then after we do housework, we watch TV together, play games, or just talk.

"On weekends, the family always does things together. Sometimes we bowl, or fish, or hunt along the beach for treasures. 'Mom' often fixes me special meals, surprises me with a new shirt, or takes time to listen to my complaints. Although she has a son of her own, a husband, and a job, she's always there when I need her.

"When I first saw the contest sign in the mall, I thought 'wouldn't I like to do something in return for a very nice person.' Most of all, though, I just wanted someone else to know that I have a wonderful 'mom.' I love her. She is truly a 'top mom'."

The following were also winners of gifts from Serramonte merchants: Bryant Thomas, all cheese box from Hickory Farms; Kelly Morin, a nightgown from Mode O'Day; Tanya Wilson, a mother's keepsake album and Lenox rose candle from O'Neill's Card Shop; Cary Hendrickson, a $10 gift certificate for two dinners at the Ranch Inn; Angelina Marin, a charm course from Wendy Ward.

The contest was judged by members of the Peninsula Aquarium Society, Claire Goller, Bobby Struittsburg, Nancy Salas, Betty Bobo, Pay Nyhan, and Judy Milgram.

Pianist To Give Benefit

The Community Services office of Skyline College in cooperation with the Northern California Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation will present popular Hungarian-born pianist Sari Biro in a musical benefit June 2 at 8 p.m. in the main theater.

Sari Biro will play music from the era of Schubert, Schumann, Liszt, and others that will delight the entire family.

Madame Biro, a child prodigy in her native Hungary, earned her Artist's Diploma from the Franz Liszt Royal Academy in Budapest, and achieved a reputation as a leading pianist while still in her teens. As a mature artist, Sari Biro has toured Europe and the United States extensively, as well as South America and Mexico, appearing in recital and as soloist with many of the world's major symphony orchestras.

Because of her concern for afflicted children, Mme. Biro is donating her time and talent. Proceeds from the benefit will help to maintain a network of 116 Research, Care, and Treatment Centers across the nation where children with severe lung damage or cystic fibrosis can receive expert diagnosis and therapy.

Cystic Fibrosis, a fatal inherited disease, is still incurable, but modern research made possible by donated funds already has lengthened the lives of its victims from an average age of 2 to 12 years, with many patients living into their twenties.

Admission price for adults is $4.00; for students, $2; and for children under 12, $1. The fee is tax deductible. (Make check payable to "Box Office, Skyline College," and return it to the Box Office, Skyline College.

Serramonte High-lites

Bi-lingual education at Serramonte High School is attempting to provide a complete bi-lingual, bi-cultural experience for the students enrolled in the program. Students include both those whose native language is Spanish and those whose native language is English. The bi-lingual courses available are language arts, mathematics, science, and social science.

The Serramonte High program is part of the Jefferson Union High School District special bi-lingual education program funded by the federal government under ESEA Title 7. The total program operates at Serramonte and Jefferson High Schools with limited classes available at Westmoor and Oceana. A proposal is being written now to try to find funding for a fuller program at Westmoor and Oceana under the provisions of SB 2284.

THIS IS THE SECOND year of operation of the special five-year program and according to the program co-ordinator Cella La Forge the handbook developed here is in great demand from school districts all over the state. She also had much praise for the total dedication of the teachers in the program. They have had to do much to prepare many of the materials used in their classes themselves and in many instances have taken a very innovative, creative approach to their subjects. Mrs. La Forge also praised very highly the program aides working in the program with the classroom instructors.

The total bi-lingual, bi-cultural experience of the 400 students in the program has contributed greatly to increased understanding between students which extends far beyond the classroom.

A MUSICAL TREAT awaits those who attend Serramonte High School's Spring Concert Thursday in the Little Theater of the school at 8 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door and are priced at $1 with children under 12 years of age free.

The concert will include performances by the band, orchestra, and choir along with several solo performances. Miss Jan Gaynor, the musical director, has also scheduled the presentation of special musical awards as part of the evening's program.

A FULL PROGRAM of senior activities has been planned for those graduating from Serramonte High School in June. The student body will gather at an Awards Assembly May 24 and outstanding seniors will be recognized for their achievements.

This assembly begins at 8:15 a.m. and interested parents are invited to attend.

FRIDAY is the date set for the Senior Picnic at Turtle Rock Ranch. Only seniors may attend this event which will be fully supervised by the Serramonte staff. Students attending will be served a chicken dinner along with being able to enjoy all the outdoor facilities of the ranch. The price for the seniors is only $3 since Bob Garay, senior class president, was able to arrange for the class treasury to cover half of the cost of the picnic.

THE SENIOR BALL is to be combined with the Junior Prom at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco, June 9 at 9 p.m.

THE FINAL ACTIVITIES for the seniors and their parents are the Senior Reception on June 12 at 2 p.m., in the school cafeteria and the commencement ceremony in the school gymnasium at 8 p.m., June 14. Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks.

A recent inquiry sent me searching through my recipes for this different way of preparing pot roast. When I first heard of this recipe I was intrigued by the idea of such a unusual way of cooking a roast. After trying it I was delighted with this method. And what is the method? Simmering the roast in strong tea.

TEA BARBECUED POT ROAST

- 1 beef roast (I used a rump roast)
- 2 cups strong tea

Sear the roast in heavy pot until brown. (A Dutch oven works great for this.) Add no seasonings. Pour two cups strong tea over roast and simmer on stove four to five hours. Remove from tea and place in roasting pan. Pour prepared barbecue sauce over roast and bake, uncovered in 300-degree oven for 45 minutes, turning once.

SAUCE

- 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
- 1 cup water
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup chili sauce
- 3 tablespoons brown sugar
- Juice of 2 lemons
- 1/4 teaspoon celery salt

Use instant onion, enough to equal one-half cup fresh, or chopped onion sauteed in butter. Combine the half cup onion, one cup water, one teaspoon paprika, two tablespoons vinegar, one teaspoon salt, one cup chili sauce, three tablespoons brown sugar, juice of 2 lemons and one-fourth teaspoon celery salt.

This makes two cups; if you use a small roast, halve the ingredients.

These Bake-Off winners are moist and spicy bars with a crumbly brown sugar and nut topping.

REDI-FROSTED RAISIN BARS

- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup raisins
- 1 cup water
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/4 teaspoon each, nutmeg and salt
- 2 cups All-Purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Oven 350 degrees, yields 36 bars.

In two-quart saucepan, combine the one cup each sugar, raisins and water, half cup butter, one teaspoon cinnamon, half teaspoon ground cloves, fourth teaspoon each nutmeg and salt. Bring to boil; boil gently three minutes. Cool. Add two cups flour, one teaspoon soda, half teaspoon baking powder and one teaspoon vanilla; blend well. Spread batter evenly in greased 15x10-inch jelly roll pan. Sprinkle topping evenly over batter; press down lightly. Bake at 350-degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Cool, cut into bars.

TOPPING

- 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 1/4 cup All-Purpose flour
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
- 1 tablespoon (3 teaspoons) cinnamon

In medium mixing bowl combine the one cup brown sugar, half cup walnuts, fourth cup flour, two tablespoons butter and one tablespoon cinnamon; mix well.

100% Score For Pacifica Nike Battery

The Army Reserve National Guard Nike-Hercules Missile Battery A, 1st Battalion, 250th Artillery of Pacifica, arrived at San Francisco International Airport last night after firing a perfect 100 per cent score last week in U.S. Air Defense annual service practice at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Battery A's perfect score marked the second year in a row that the Pacifica unit scored 100 per cent in the annual competition.

"This is a feat never before accomplished in the history of Air Defense firing history," said an Air Defense spokesman. "It's a one chance in a million accomplishment," he added.

Scoring is based on missile assembly, preparation of the firing system, engagement of enemy aircraft and firing.

Easy Way to Make $800

DOES IT BOTHER YOU, Fellow Taxpayer, that Attorney David Friedenberg collected $800 in March and April as negotiator for the Jefferson Elementary School District in teacher talks? It bothers me, because there was not a single meeting during that two month period. But that's the deal Mr. Friedenberg got from the JESD.

JIM CANNON, who complimented Friedenberg for doing a great job in the past two years ("We didn't get a raise did we?"), is off to South America with wife, Kris, to visit places he served in during his Peace Corps days.

RECALL MOVEMENT — Over in Brisbane, the sponsors of that recall action against Councilmen Jess Salmon, Bill Lawrence and Julius Stern again have submitted a supplemental petition to the city clerk for verification. A similar petition was sent in last month, but was rejected because some of the names weren't registered. . . . Meanwhile, in Colma Town, where the folks take their marble games laying down, that recall is moving right along, we're told. It was interesting to note the subject of the recall, Councilman Raymond Ottoboni, defended his son's appointment as that city's police chief by noting he was the only one on the force qualified. Actually, son Raymond is the ONLY one on the force, period.

TWO GIRLS have joined the swelling ranks of those kids picking up an extra $25 for turning in leads on vandals breaking up school property in the Jeff District. See someone breaking school property, report him or her and pick up a quick $25, no questions asked.

I'M TIRED OF THOSE rumors rumbling around the JESD. Latest, concerns last minute attempts by the male majority of the board, including outgoing board chairman Albert Collett, to push through a contract extension for Supt. Frank Greenwood, whose job appears to be in jeopardy now that one of his strongest critics, David Parker, has been elected, starting July 1. Asked if this were true, Mr. Collett said last week he certainly could see no reason for such an extension of Mr. Greenwood's contract. "After all," Mr. Collett said, "the superintendent has about two more years to go on his present contract."

ANTHER STORY circulating, much to this writer's dismay, is that a last minute move will be made by a majority of the present board to "buy out" Superintendent Greenwood, replacing him before Parker assumes his post. It is no secret that Parker, Beverly Forrester and Dorothy Adams intend to oust Greenwood. Each has indicated this was their goal. How or when this will be accomplished is yet another subject of much speculation. However, if the present board does buy up Mr. Greenwood's contract—some $60,000 — it would preclude his losing money in the transaction.

FLASHY FLASH — It looks like that audit report from the State will be released next week at a public meeting of the JESD.

POLICE ARE KEEPING their collective eyes on a culprit that has been "bothering" Daly City girls. Police said the person under surveillance has been carrying on affairs with young neighborhood girls — one of whom was only nine years old. The age of the "suspect" is seven years old.

THAT'S A GOOD LAW Assemblyman Lou Papan is sponsoring concerning the deduction ($50) for those persons who have their female cats neutered. We would also like to see Papan push laws that would require cat owners to have their pets licensed, same as dogs.

WANT TO GET A good business started: "Cartnap" some of those grocery carts being used for everything around Daly City except to carry groceries and ransom them back to the shopping centers. Why not? There's a company in San Francisco that contracts to pick up shopping carts and they get paid by the cart when they return them all clean and ready for people to deposit again, in roadways, on sidewalks, lawns, against parked cars.

MIKE VELASQUEZ, the Mexican peroshki king (Mexican peroshkis?) is expanding his operations into the Los Angeles area. He starts supplying the Queen Mary docked in Long Beach with the delicious Russian morsels next month. Mike and Babe Pina got their start in San Bruno.

DID YOU MISS that Chinese Festival at the Westlake Shopping Center last Saturday? If you did, Friend, you missed a goody. They had Kung Fu (they pronounce it "Gung Fu," according to promotion director Gene Perry). Lotsa pretty girls and much more. It was indeed unique. Hopefully it will be held again soon.

HERE'S WHAT WE don't understand — If there is indeed a gasoline shortage why are all those companies offering promotional items such as free car washes, glasswares, dishes, ad nauseum? And why do these same companies build more and more service stations on every street corner?

IT CAME AS no surprise to us that the cost of that Westmoor High swim pool would come in a lot higher than at first anticipated by Bill Chapman. For weeks we had been predicting construction material costs were skyrocketing and it would hit local projects right where it hurt the most — in the pocketbook. Folks will blame Chapman, because they have to have a scapegoat. Instead, they should look at the real causes hitting the industry throughout the world. So high have lumber costs soared in recent months that a Tokyo man had to cease building his home because he could not afford lumber.

FISH Lends a Helping Hand to Those in Need

By JACK BIK

A public health nurse in South San Francisco was desperate. She had a despondent young mother on her hands, with suicidal tendencies.

In San Bruno recently, an elderly man was faced with a dilemma. He didn't want to send his wife to a convalescent home—but he himself was too old and frail to take care of his wife's needs, and she could not do anything for herself.

A woman trying to rear three small children by herself stood the opportunity of a very good job—if only she could leave her children somewhere while she took a few training courses. She could not afford any baby-sitters, however.

These kinds of situations take place constantly on the Peninsula, as well as elsewhere in America—and are typical of our lonely suburban society where everyone simply "minds" their own business.

In these three situations, however, help came. The call for help went out to a newly formed organization in South San Francisco which calls itself "FISH."

One housewife took the suicidal woman in hand, and drove her to the Peninsula Mental Health Unit at Peninsula Hospital.

A local family visited the elderly couple, spent a few hours at their home every few days, picking up, washing dishes and even bathing the wife, while doctors tried to work out some kind of compatible convalescent home.

As for the woman with three small children, she just dropped them over at the home of a FISH volunteer—no charge.

Some 95 persons, mostly living in South San Francisco, have volunteered to donate a certain number of hours each month to provide transportation, provide emergency meals, baby-sitting and almost any other act of kindness that people customarily used to do for their neighbors in the days when neighbors cared for each other. Volunteers who cannot leave their own homes help out by acting as "linemen." The FISH switchboard puts a caller in touch with a linemen who determines that neighbor's need and turns the request over to another volunteer who will provide the actual service.

"Sometimes, a person just has to talk to an understanding person," says Mrs. Pat DeZordo, general coordinator of the local group.

FISH began as a church-affiliated group in England in 1961 and was brought to the United States in 1964. There are now FISH chapters in Pacifica and Burlingame, as well as South San Francisco.

The original group chose the name FISH because the fish symbol was used by the early Christians as a means of identification and as a means of communicating with one another. However, other groups chose to use acronyms such as "Friends in Service Here," and "For Immediate Sympathetic Help."

Organizationally, FISH has no national structure. Anyone can start a group. Not all are church oriented. In Chicago, five FISH groups sponsored by synagogues call themselves STARFISH, with a Star of David superimposed over the FISH as their symbol.

"The FISH philosophy is quite different from established volunteer organizations," according to Alena Doane, a volunteer who is trying to publicize the group. "It is not based on the usual charity concept. Rather, it works on the principle of neighbor helping neighbor."

On June 3, South San Francisco FISH will observe its first birthday. Mayor Pro-Tem Warren Steinkamp and his city council will proclaim that Sunday as "FISH Volunteer Day."

It seems to have begun when the Rev. Gilbert Vierra of the Aldersgate Methodist Church talked to Meg Aria and Sylvia Andrews about the group and found themselves and a few other friends in complete agreement as to the need for the group.

There are now a half-dozen South San Francisco churches which help sponsor the group by contributing some $5 to $10 per month—St. Veronica's Catholic, All Souls Catholic, Aldersgate, St. Paul's Methodist, Hillside Church of God and Our Redeemer's Lutheran. Several other churches are considering coming in. In addition, the hat is often passed at the monthly meetings of the group, held in All Souls Church the second Thursday of each month.

The group is currently working on a project which would bring one hot meal per day to elderly people who would not otherwise provide themselves with enough nutritional food.

"We need more drivers, in particular," Mrs. DeZordo says. "Transportation is terrible in the North Peninsula. In March, we had 56 calls for transportation. . . . We are just barely touching the surface."

U.S. Political Parties Are Hardy Institutions

Speculation prevails as to the future of the Republican party. Could Watergate mark its end?

A great deal of foolishness has been said about the demise of one or the other of our major parties. In 1948 it was seriously announced that Truman had wiped out the Republican party, and that we were headed for a one party system. The same kind of doom was pronounced in 1964 for Republicans and 1968 for Democrats.

Current predictions of disappearance of the Republican party are nothing new. The two parties have, however, proven hardy institutions. They have withstood landslides, scandals, changes in national mood, and even periods of competence of one party or the other.

Watergate, however, is a new and formidable challenge. If the party responds adroitly, it will be wounded, but will not be washed away. Everything depends upon how it handles itself.

First, Watergate should be placed in perspective. It must be admitted to be a mess of cosmic proportions. Republicans can hardly take comfort in comparing it with Teapot Dome — [this only reminds people that Teapot Dome occurred under Republican management, and, in any event, history may view Watergate as the more serious.

The times during which Teapot Dome occurred were different. History was lazily uncurling after the first World War, and the flow of events was glacial compared with today's pace. While Watergate has preempted the news, world events continue at a rapid speed. Last week's news of Cambodia and the Near East could easily have made headlines. There is no way of comparing the swirl of present happenings with those of the 1920s.

So despite the daily revelations, life and government must go on. The Republican party probably will survive Watergate, but it has no chance of surviving charges of inaction and immobility as a consequence of Watergate.

The Republican party itself stands reasonably clear of Watergate to the present time. Up to now, no Senator or Congressman, Governor or state legislator has been tarnished. Present evidence jeopardizes some officials of the Presidential campaign, and some federal office holders. Thus far there is no evidence that Watergate was a party phenomenon, and the Republican National Committee, the state committees of the 50 states, the county committees and volunteer organizations seem uninvolved. The thunder is going on over their heads, but so far lightning has not struck and may never strike these organizations.

Naturally, the vast majority of leaders and members of these groups hope the President will remain clear of Watergate, and want to do all they can to protect and assist him in time of trouble. It is important, however, that errors be avoided. For there are pitfalls that await the overzealous.

You can't unring a bell, and the events already disclosed won't go away. It seems the best course for Republicans is to admit that burglary is burglary, bribery is bribery, and that wiretapping is not done in cordial company.

Nothing could be more ruinous to the party cause than to justify such offenses on philosophical or political grounds. To excuse these activities as being in pursuit of law and order, or as against some kind of left wing menace would, indeed, commit the party to extinction. Such arguments should be recognized immediately as reflecting an "ends justify means" attitude, a state of mind that may have gotten some of the participants in the quagmire in the first place.

Furthermore, this wasn't politics as usual. Thousands of Americans including candidates and professional and volunteer workers, have participated in campaigns without engaging in such activities. The army of volunteers is essential to our political process, and there are too few interested citizens now. For party leaders to declare that Watergate is just part of a dirty business is not only a weak defense, but could result in turning public spirited citizens away from the world's most fascinating game (when played according to the rules). The impact of such statements will fall most heavily on Republican leaders who may want to run for something or other in the future, and will find volunteers few and far between when invited into a game called "dirty" by the very men later seeking help.

Attacks against the courts and press should be avoided. A free press, after all, disclosed some of the facts of Watergate, and the judicial system has conducted itself in the highest tradition of independence and strength.

The party, its officials, and its men of government should speak out against unfair attack and innuendo, but, as has already been the case, should be in the forefront in seeing that full disclosure of all facts be made. They should also devote serious attention to the business of politics and government, for the nation and world won't wait for Watergate to run its course.

With such attitudes and action, the party will survive, and probably enjoy, in the immediate coming years its share of successes. By observing its own best traditions and so acting, it will also best serve the President. But any effort to meet Watergate head on, and to make its justification a partisan cause, could mark the end of the party known as Republican, a party which has, over the years served its country well.

Samuel Chandler
Parks Had To Be Worthless

Few people know how many battles have been fought to create and preserve the national parks that grace our land.

Congress would not pass the bill creating Yellowstone National Park until the head of the U.S. Geological Survey assured the representatives that the land added "nothing to the value of the public domain" and would mean "no pecuniary loss to the government."

Even as he cast his vote for the bill that created the park, one U.S. representative qualified his vote saying that the region is "rocky, mountainous, full of gorges, and unfit for agricultural purposes." He added that even Indians could "no more live there than they can upon the precipitous sides of the Yosemite Valley."

YOSEMITE ITSELF became a national park when a courageous Secretary of Interior so designated it, thus misinterpreting a law that created three forest reservations in the High Sierra. When Congress was called upon to confirm the designation, it cut 540 square miles of "mineral, lumber, and grazing land" from the size of the park.

During the fight for Crater Lake National Park, Representative Thomas H. Tongue took the floor of the House to say, "It's a very small affair — only 18 by 22 miles." It contained, he said, "no agricultural land of any kind" but was "simply a mountain, a little more than 9,000 feet in altitude."

Even so, the bill for Crater Lake National Park was held up until some congressmen were certain that mining ventures would be allowed in the park if mineral resources were discovered.

The battles are refought every time a section of land is requested for a national park or monument. This leads Alfred Runte, a graduate student in American conservation history and a spokesman for a new generation of conservationists, to write, "It is clear that the United States has not yet relinquished its nineteenth century preservation traditions. The Government protects primarily what the business ethic of the nation allows it to protect."

CITING RECENT fights to protect "scenic regions," Runte writes, "The resources have therefore gone to the industrial interests. With few exceptions nature lovers have won the rocks." This he says is still true in spite of the outdoor recreation industries that have risen around the parks and monuments.

As John Muir wrote, Runte warns, "Nothing dollarable is safe, however guarded." Runte's article entitled, "Worthless Lands — Our National Parks," may be found in the May, 1973, issue of "American West." Although it is too short, it focuses our attention to a most important area of national life. Surely it is an article worth reading and the vigilance it calls for is an activity worthy of far more Americans than a few environmentalists.

Career Plagued By Eye Trouble

"Oh, what could have been" is a sigh that could have been applied to the late George Sisler, who played half of his major league career handicapped by severe vision problems.

The Hall of Fame first baseman was a magnificent defensive player (some say that baseball has not yet seen his peer) and an outstanding baserunner (he led the American League in stolen bases four times: stole 375 bases, seventeenth on the all-time lists). Sisler had a lifetime batting average of .340 (tied for fourteenth on all-time lists), 2811 hits (twenty-second), and holds one of baseball's longest hitting streaks — 41 games.

ASTOUNDINGLY, Sisler accounted for much of this record — and more — in only seven seasons of virtually total good health. In 1923, just after his thirtieth birthday, he was forced to retire from the game for a full season because of the eye problem. In 1922 he had been the AL's Most Valuable Player after having compiled what was at the time the "modern" highest single season batting average, .420 (in 1924, Rogers Hornsby hit .424). When he returned in 1924, he hit .305.

Thus, Sisler's career was really two careers — from 1915, when he broke in as a pitcher (he had a 4-4 record with a 2.83 ERA), to 1922, and then from '24 until his retirement from the majors in 1930.

Actually, Sisler averaged more games per season after the eye trouble (144) than he did before it (131), but that was due primarily to the fact that he wasted much of his rookie year pitching.

Now, granted that Sisler's "second" career was played after age 30 and that he would have been expected to decline somewhat in any event, it is still interesting to speculate on what might have been by doing a statistical study of his "two" careers.

In the eight years before his severe eye trouble (including the year as a pitcher), Sisler had a combined batting average of .361, and averaged 187 hits, 30 doubles, 12.5 triples, seven homers, 77 RBIs and 91.5 runs scored per season. In that period he twice led the league in batting (a tough feat when one was competing with Ty Cobb), twice in total hits, once in runs scored, and once in triples. In the three years prior to his temporary retirement, Sisler may have been the hottest hitter for a three year period in the history of the game. He batted out 257 hits (still an all-time single season record), 216 hits, and 246, an average of 240 hits a season, for a composite batting average of .400. He also hit 18 triples three years running, and averaged 43 doubles, 13 homers, 110 RBIs and 132 runs scored per season during that time period.

After the eye trouble, Sisler averaged "only" .320 (188 hits per season), with 26 doubles, nine triples, six homers, 80 RBIs and 79 runs scored. He never led the league in anything again, except defensively. Considering that he averaged 13 more games per season than he had in his earlier career, and the dramatic drop in all categories as a hitter is pronounced.

It would be impractical to say, of course, that Sisler might have retained his .361 lifetime average, or would have continued bating out 200 hits a season, but the chances are that a great career would have been even greater and perhaps amazing had Sisler been able to retain his sharp eyesight for an entire career.

While we're talking of hitting records, it shouldn't surprise any Lefty O'Doul fan that the greatest hitter not in the Hall of Fame holds the little publicized but very important record of having been on base more times in a single season (1929, 334) than any National League player in history.

Who holds the American League record? Did you have to ask? Babe Ruth, of course. He did it 379 times in 1923.

While we're playing with hitting records not well known, perhaps you'd like a look at the flip side—little known pitching records.

For example, did you know that in 1904, Cy Young issued only 28 walks in 380 innings? That works out to .66 walks per game. The major league record for fewest walks in a season is actually held by Babe Adams, who in 1920 walked only 18, but did it in "just" 263 innings, which is an average of .62 a game.

Adams once worked a 21-inning game without

Falcons Move to MPL Finals

By STEVE JOHNSON

Terry Christman can't really explain it.

Things have turned around faster for his Crestmoor High baseball team than Napoleon's public image after Waterloo. Just a week ago, at the end of what Christman termed a "disappointing" regular season, the Falcons had just barely squeezed into the Mid-Peninsula League playoffs with a so-so 6-6 record.

But Friday, Crestmoor completed a sparkling week of playoff activity with a 5-1 win over Hillsdale at Washington Park to put Christman's crew in the MPL title game yesterday.

The opponent was round-robin champ Burlingame, which fell to the Falcons 5-2 four days ago in first round play.

"It's tough to say what's happened to us," said Christman. "You can keep talking to these kids day after day, but sooner or later they've got to see something and not just hear about it."

"Earlier in the season we were hustling but not getting the breaks. Now we're hustling and it's paying off. I think it's wake us up."

Stu Bringhurst in particular has hit his stride in the playoffs. The muscular senior has three hits and two RBIs against the Knights, to go with a run-scoring single against Burlingame.

"I feel relaxed," said Bringhurst, who was also the winning pitcher over the Panthers. "Too many guys tense up. And hitting with two strikes helps me out a lot."

Bringhurst followed Dan Wild's fifth inning RBI single to left with a run-producing hit that gave the Falcons a 4-0 lead. An error on Chuck Chavez' hard chance at third scored the third run of the rally.

Len Bettencourt gave up a leadoff triple to Dave Perez in the first, but nailed him there. He gave up Hillsdale's only run with two outs in the seventh on Steve Bookatz' double to left-center that drove in Gary Wilson.

Bettencourt received excellent fielding support, especially from third baseman Jeff Hampton, who had five assists.

Hillsdale lodged a protest in the fifth when a Crestmoor runner coming down from third touched a bunt in foul territory. The Knights thought he should have been called out, but the umpire's judgment was that the

Terra Nova Impressive In Playoffs

Terra Nova, which felt it should have won the title two weeks ago, did it anyway Friday as the North Peninsula League Shaughnessy Playoffs ended in impressive fashion for the Tigers.

Marty Coil's charges rocked South San Francisco for an 8-0 victory in Pacifica in a game which earned them the 1973 NPL championship and a berth in the Central Coast Section Region I Playoffs next Thursday against the still-to-be determined Med-Peninsula League representative.

The victory was a personally satisfying one for lefthanded junior Steve Shirley, who broke nearly a month-long stale pitching period with a fast-balling one-hitter over the Warriors, who had finished second in the final conference standings.

Shirley's fast ball was his out pitch yesterday. Early in the game he was blowing it night by the Warriors as he struck out the first eight outs recorded. His control seemed to return also as he walked only four, one of his lowest outputs of the year.

The only hit off Shirley was a first-inning sharp single to right field by sophomore outfielder Albert Dunn. Combined with a walk to Terry Hendley it gave the Warriors one of their two scoring opportunities in the first three innings but they were unable to drive a run across.

Shirley slipped off the mound delivering a fourth-inning pitch and twisted his left ankle. He finished the game but was limping noticeably and it lent doubt as to just who would be the starting pitcher in the regional matchup with the MPL.

If Coil does call on Pete Wathen to throw he won't be losing a thing. Wathen was 10-0 with a 1.20 ERA this year and he, too, is just a junior.

First baseman Dave Bier figured in all three scoring innings for the Tigers, who were having their problems early with junior righthander Dennis Collier. In fact, a scoreless duel was on the boards in the last of the fourth until Bier singled.

He was forced by Mike Taylor gain the Central Coast Region I play-offs May 24 at Burlingame's Washington field.

Shirley and Hendley have faced each other twice already this year. Each has won a 2-1 decision. But it appears that the expected rubber match between the two won't come off, as SSF coach Bob Brian has named junior righthander Dennis Collier (who had a no-hitter in his last appearance) to start for the Warriors.

Hendley's performance Friday, a three-hitter, was much closer to the Warriors' third consecutive no-hitter than statistics seem to reveal.

The hard-throwing righthander hadn't allowed a hit until the sixth inning, and the first hit was an off-field quail that hit about seven-sixteenths of an inch inside the foul line. The only clean safety was in the seventh, when Half Moon Bay made their lone threat at the

The other half, lefthander Steve Shirley of Terra Nova, should be well-rested for his meeting with the Warriors, as he was knocked out in the first inning before the Tigers rallied for a 7-3 win over Westmoor.

Westmoor and Half Moon Bay are eliminated from further baseball action. South City must now defeat Terra Nova twice to HILLSDALE HIGH'S Scott Scharlan (upside down with foot in air) accomplished the impossible — holding onto the ball after making tag on Crestmoor's Stu Bringhurst (18), who was attempting to steal third in Friday's MPL play-off game. Scharlan and Bringhurst are sizable lads, and the collision was memorable.

Falcons Triumph

ball would not have gone back into fair ground, although the runner was warned.

Crestmoor struck it big with the waiting game Tuesday.

Just a half hour after getting the starting nod from coach Terry Christman, Stu Bringham went out and pitched the Falcons to a 5-2 upset over Burlingame at Washington Park in the first round of the Mid-Peninsula League playoffs.

Dave Perez sparked Hillsdale past Capuchino, 3-1, in the other play-off opener.

"I thought the waiting would be good for them," said Christman of his four-man pitching staff. "Sometimes it can hurt a guy if he knows he's going out there in advance."

"Bringham has been inconsistent," Christman explained. "But when he's on, he can beat anybody." Bringham wasn't "on" all the way, but was nails when it counted — with runners on.

Conversely, Crestmoor hit in the clutch early and often to take a 5-1 lead into the bottom of the third. The Falcons struck right away with two outs in the first and Gary Corden on via a walk.

Bringham singled to left to score Corden, who had moved up on an infield out. Len Bettencourt tripled to left-center, and Chuck Chavez singled to right to finish the rally.

A base-running mixup at third cost Burlingame one run and possibly more in the third, and Chavez's nice running catch of Jack Ferrari's looping liner in the sixth ended an uprising with runners at first and second.

Perez, who had scored the tying run in the third for the Knights on Scott Scharlan's single, drove in winning pitcher Al Castillo with the go-ahead in the fourth on a two-out double over the left-fielder's head.

Castillo, who got an important insurance run in the seventh on Al Gorang's single, had one major jam after giving up a run on Pete Santora's infield roller in the first.

Summer Leagues Start in D.C.

With the start of Men's Slow Pitch Softball the Daily City Recreation Department's summer leagues are all officially under way.

The Men's leagues showed a few surprises, but mainly it showed the obvious, and that is that work is needed by almost all teams to get rid of the kinks that have come up during the winter. The following are the results of the opening week.

The Big League

There is no better way to show the balance of a league than to have an opening game go four extra innings. The Brewers and Broadway Brake and Tire locked horns in this game, which was eventually won by the Brakeman 6-5. Both teams were outstanding defensively as few errors were committed.

The leading hitters for the game were R. Moura, M. Smyth and R. Olcese for Broadway and Frank Oross, Mike Parodi and Ben Parodi for the Brewers.

In another game the Hillsdale Master Batters outslug the Misfits by the score of 13-2. While dazzling Mike Grazioli was controlling the Misfits from the mound, Bill and Larry DeLuca, Kelly Veach and Dennis Germano were all getting 3 hits for the winners. Morgans Maunders won their game with PT&T by forfeit.

Industrial Church League

The Golden Coach loaded up and rode rough shod over the Longs Drugs team by the score of 18-6. Ed Guzman, Tom Baine and Rich Brewer all blasted home runs for the Coach in leading their team home. In other league games, Bayshore Baptist defeated Tipples 10-6 while J.C. Penney beat the Hornets 7-0.

"B" League South

In a league of hitting the Bank of America Vets destroyed their younger employees, the Bank of America Rooks, 25-4. The old bankers showed the youngsters just who is boss in this onslaught of runs. Gil Rodriguez, Bryan Beckles and Gary Andriani were superb for the Vets. Cordero Chevrolet finally shifted gears and drove over the World of Carpets by the score of 17-16.

Career Plagued By Eye Trouble

modern baseball has ever done.

Maybe Walter didn't actually hit them, but do you have a feeling that he occasionally intimidated batters?

Don't look now, but Dick Williams is back to shuffling his second basemen. He's been averaging three-four a game, but has already tied his all-time single game record of six. And so early in the season!

Somebody is finally getting around to honoring Billy Mahoney, the ex-boxer, trainer, manager often mentioned here who has practically made a lifetime's work of arranging dinners and doing other nice things for old-time, often forgotten ring heroes.

The Sacramento Boxing Association and friends are honoring Billy with a dinner at Ed and Carol Helzer's Rancho Americana Spa on Sunday, May 20. Besides the prime rib dinner, there has been a full day arranged at the spa so that for $7 a fan of Billy's may swim in the Olympic-sized pool, get a sauna bath, watch boxing movies, etc.

There will also be famous boxing personalities there, including Mushy Callahan, Jimmy McLarnin, Jackie Fields and Young Corbett III.

Questions may be addressed to Ed Helzer at the Rancho Americana Spa, 9880 Jackson Road, Sacramento, 95826, or you may phone direct, 362-1125, or 362-3212.

walking a batter, while Young accomplished the feat once in 20 innings.

The all-time strikeout record for a single season is 505, set by Matthew Kilroy for Baltimore in 1886, a season in which Kilroy (the certainly WAS there!) appeared in 65 games and threw 570 innings!

Steve Carlton holds a weird one — most strikeouts for a losing pitcher in a nine inning game. That one was set in a night game in 1969, when he K'd 19, and lost, 4-3. Carlton also once struck out 16 and lost, another night game in 1967. The score was 3-1.

The surprise unusual pitching record of the day, though goes to Walter Johnson, a man who was so fast he was supposedly afraid to throw at batters for fear he might kill them... or that's how the legend goes.

But guess who is tied for the AL record in most seasons leading the league in wild pitches? Or most wild pitches in a season? Or most wild pitches in an inning? You guessed it, Walter Johnson.

In 1910 Walter tossed 21 wild pitches, an AL record later tied by Earl Wilson, of Boston, in 1963. Johnson led the AL in wild pitches three times, in 1910, '11 and '14. And in the fourth inning of a game on September 21, 1914, he threw four wild pitches.

Terra Nova Wins

Warrior ace. South City had taken a 1-0 lead in the first when Rhod Wallace and Rob Goldstein put down consecutive bunt base hits and Albert Dunn walked to load the bags. Gordon Miller's sacrifice fly plated Wallace.

In the third the Warriors doubled that total when Dunn ricked a prodigious smote clean out of Orange Park, a fastball that may still be rising.

Trailing 2-1 in the seventh, HMB came up with a two-out rally that came within a step of tying the game. A clean single by Jay Alves, a looping single by losing pitcher Ray Reyes and a four-pitch walk to Dale loaded the bags but a ground ball to deep shortstop on the next play resulted in a one-step force-out at second and a win for South City.

Hendley struck out 13 Cougars and walked just three in registering his 10th win of the year.

Shirley wasn't nearly as fortunate. Westmoor rocked him for three runs in the first inning before junior right-hander Pete Wathen came on to quell a bases-loaded rally.

All Wathen did was pitch 6 1-3 of shutout relief, raising his record to 10-0, as he had Westmoor grounding out with his low breaking pitch all day.

Defensive lapses killed Westmoor in the third as Terra Nova rallied for four runs.

Mike LaCoste and Shirley singled and when Dave Bier attempted a sacrifice wild throw at third on the fielder's choice rolled down the left field line and scored two runs. Another error allowed Jeff Simons life before singles by Bill Bender and Reggie Pomiope scored the third and fourth runs.

Pilot Program at SSF Church Slated

Beginning June 4 a three-month pilot program residential dinner service in northern San Mateo County will begin under the sponsorship of the Christian Social Concerns-Missions Commission of St. Paul's United Methodist Church, South San Francisco.

This service is designed primarily for shut-ins, for convalescents and for elderly persons living alone with the accompanying problems of buying and preparing foods for a balanced diet. However, it is available for any others who may wish it.

The meals can be ordered for three, four, or five evenings a week and will be delivered to your home in the late afternoon or early evening at a nominal cost. Prepared in the kitchen of Merlin's Residential Service, the meals include entree, two vegetables and dessert. A low-salt entree is also available each day.

Sample menus are available and anyone desiring one or wanting further information on the service can contact Dorothy Silva at 583-1268 or Nancy Armentrout, 583-8124. Volunteer help will be used to co-ordinate the program and make deliveries during the three month pilot period, and if, during that time, a real need for such a service in the north county area is apparent, a permanent program will be established.

Merlin's Residential Dinner Service has been serving San Mateo County as far north as Burlingame for several years.

By DAN BERTELLOTTI

It took a little extra work to break a record in Saturday's CCS Region I track meet at Serramonte High.

Like the constitution of a Viking sea-captain.

The track wasn't exactly Ice Station Zebra, but it was close. Nevertheless, seven athletes managed the job, four in the varsity and three in the frosh-soph.

Serramonte's hurdler extraordinaire, Ike Allmond, was pushed hard by San Mateo's Clyde Lamont and flashed to victory in the highs (in 14.0, breaking his own meet record of 14.5) and the lows (in 19.0, a tenth off the record). Both marks were wind-aided. Lamont went 14.4 and 19.1, his best efforts to date.

Taking third was Burlingame's Andy Kolesnikow, a clutch athlete who always seems to be coming out of the woodwork when there are season-end medals to be won.

Unfortunately, two of the region's best hurdlers did not compete. Mills' Larry Jones didn't show and Hillsdale's

Luther Jackson came late, running only in the mile relay. Mills two-miler Ian Burnett broke the old standard by 1.3 seconds, running 9:22.4; his time reflects steady progress toward his best mark of last year, run in the CCS meet. He finished third in the mile.

Crestmoor horizontal jumper Fred Geipel set a meet record with a 45-0½ leap (the old mark was 44-2½). It was a satisfying win for Geipel, who had jumped 44-11 early in the year but hadn't come close since.

San Mateo pole vaulter Ryon Paton went a season-best

14-7¼, breaking the old standard of 14-6. Paton's was easily the top qualifying mark going into this Saturday night's CCS meet in San Jose. The current CCS leader, Hintz of Buchser, could manage only 13-0 in the Region II meet.

On the frosh-soph level, Mills' fine half-miler Steve Vasquez ran 2:01.6 in his specialty; it wasn't his best time, but it was good enough to win. His brother Ken long-jumped 22-9 to shatter the old meet mark of 21-10 (that mark also would have won the varsity event).

In the other horizontal jump San Mateo's Andy Gustavson hopped, skipped and jumped 44-2¾.

San Mateo's relay teams ran into trouble. The 440 quartet had trouble with passes. And in the mile relay, where they had recorded a 3:28.0 only a week earlier, they overtook St. Francis for fifth only on the strength of Keith Nakada's fine anchor quarter.

Capuchino qualified in the mile relay — but the Mustangs were lucky. Their last pass got dropped but they finished third.

St. Ignatius won the varsity division, unofficially, taking eight of the 16 events. San Mateo was second.

Some of the top times from the Region III and Region IV meets include a 1:55.2 half mile by Robert Louis Stevenson's Malcolm Clearym, a 47-1½ triple jump by John LeGrande of Westmont and an outstanding triple effort by Silver Creek's Millard Hampton. Hampton took both Region III sprints, in 9.7 and 21.3, and anchored the quarter relay team to a 42.5 clocking.

Three Locals Place In NorCal Gym Meet

Only three locals placed in Saturday night's Northern California Invitational Gymnastics meet but that is no disgrace, as tourney director Don Nelson described the meet as a "Little Olympics."

Two Hillsdale gymnasts copied ribbons as did one San Carlan. But in a meet such as this where most of the top high school gymnasts are all in one gym, any local placing is to be congratulated.

SC's Tod Hutcheon has the top local placing finishing second on the vaulting. Hutcheon was only .1 behind the winner of the event scoring 16.6.

Mark Lawson of Hillsdale took a third place on his specialty, side horse or pommel horse. The winning score of the event was 17.2 and Lawson scored a solid 15.75.

Tom Gilardi, the MPL's top all-around threat, copied a fifth on the high bar. He scored 13.2 with 6.85 of those points coming on the optional exercises.

TEAM TOTALS
Skyline (Oakland) 306.8; Ygnacio Valley 304.18; Homestead 278.18; Encina 278.11.

FREE EXERCISE: Domier (Fremont) 17.75; Wright (Skyline) 17.55; Holm (Homestead) 17.40; Dobrus (SCV) 16.70; Sharpe (Del Mar) 16.40.

HIGH BAR: Lowry (Ygnacio Valley) 16.65; Holm (Homestead) 16.45; G. Hansen (Skyline) 15.65; J. Hansen (Skyline) 14.55; Gilardi (Hillsdale) 13.20.

VAULTING: Delmar (Diablo) 16.70; Hutcheon (San Carlos) 16.6; (tie) Holm (Homestead) and Campbell (Encina) 16.45; Lowry Ygnacio Valley, 16.35.

PARALLEL BARS: Holm (Homestead) 17.6; G. Hansen (Skyline) 17.15; J. Hansen (Skyline) 16.2; Gilardi (De Anza) 16.0; Burn (Ygnacio Valley) 15.8.

ALL AROUND: Holm (Homestead) 100.3; G. Hansen (Skyline) 95.2; J. Hansen (Skyline) 91.65; Campbell (Encina) 87.5; Lowry (Ygnacio Valley) 86.45.

Emanons Crunch Cruchers 11-10

The Emanons crunched the Nestles Cruchers with a good late effort by the score of 11-10. Frank Monteleone, and Ed Shaffer led the Emanons with 3 hits each. The Cruchers and Nestles hit the ball well and served notice that they will be hard to handle.

In another close one Canco beat the young Softballs, 8-7. Clutch hitting by Jesus Rendon and spectacular fielding by shortstop Larry Fioranelli sparked a determined Canco team to come from behind to beat the Softballs.

What can you say? This question best explains the game between the Country Clubbers and Thunder as the Clubbers won 43-3. The Clubbers got great hitting from all players as the lowest amount of hits by any player was three. Bill Feeley hit three homers and John Cannon, John Jarvis, Joel Carrara and Doot Matgen all had two as the Clubbers hit 13 homers out of 47 hits.

Seven Marks Fall in Region Meet

By DAN BERTELLOTTI

It took a little extra work to break a record in Saturday's CCS Region I track meet at Serramonte High.

Like the constitution of a Viking sea-captain.

The track wasn't exactly Ice Station Zebra, but it was close. Nevertheless, seven athletes managed the job, four in the varsity and three in the frosh-soph.

Serramonte's hurdler extraordinaire, Ike Allmond, was pushed hard by San Mateo's Clyde Lamont and flashed to victory in the highs (in 14.0, breaking his own meet record of 14.5) and the lows (in 19.0, a tenth off the record). Both marks were wind-aided. Lamont went 14.4 and 19.1, his best efforts to date.

Taking third was Burlingame's Andy Kolesnikow, a clutch athlete who always seems to be coming out of the woodwork when there are season-end medals to be won.

Unfortunately, two of the region's best hurdlers did not compete. Mills' Larry Jones didn't show and Hillsdale's

Luther Jackson came late, running only in the mile relay. Mills two-miler Ian Burnett broke the old standard by 1.3 seconds, running 9:22.4; his time reflects steady progress toward his best mark of last year, run in the CCS meet. He finished third in the mile.

Crestmoor horizontal jumper Fred Geipel set a meet record with a 45-0½ leap (the old mark was 44-2½). It was a satisfying win for Geipel, who had jumped 44-11 early in the year but hadn't come close since.

San Mateo pole vaulter Ryon Paton went a season-best

14-7¼, breaking the old standard of 14-6. Paton's was easily the top qualifying mark going into this Saturday night's CCS meet in San Jose. The current CCS leader, Hintz of Buchser, could manage only 13-0 in the Region II meet.

On the frosh-soph level, Mills' fine half-miler Steve Vasquez ran 2:01.6 in his specialty; it wasn't his best time, but it was good enough to win. His brother Ken long-jumped 22-9 to shatter the old meet mark of 21-10 (that mark also would have won the varsity event).

In the other horizontal jump San Mateo's Andy Gustavson hopped, skipped and jumped 44-2¾.

San Mateo's relay teams ran into trouble. The 440 quartet had trouble with passes. And in the mile relay, where they had recorded a 3:28.0 only a week earlier, they overtook St. Francis for fifth only on the strength of Keith Nakada's fine anchor quarter.

Capuchino qualified in the mile relay — but the Mustangs were lucky. Their last pass got dropped but they finished third.

St. Ignatius won the varsity division, unofficially, taking eight of the 16 events. San Mateo was second.

Some of the top times from the Region III and Region IV meets include a 1:55.2 half mile by Robert Louis Stevenson's Malcolm Clearym, a 47-1½ triple jump by John LeGrande of Westmont and an outstanding triple effort by Silver Creek's Millard Hampton. Hampton took both Region III sprints, in 9.7 and 21.3, and anchored the quarter relay team to a 42.5 clocking.

Reaction Sought to Airport Land Use Powers

Reactions to proposed rules which could establish the Airport Land Use Commission as the most powerful planning counties, are being sought by the State Board of Aeronautics.

Under the proposed rules, a county's Airport Land Use Commission would have zoning control of land "in the vicinity" of airports and would establish an extending four miles to the side, and six miles from each end of an airport serving commercial airlines.

In addition, the new rules require an airport land use commission to establish a "comprehensive land use plan" for the county. The comprehensive plan must include the General Plans for each of the cities within the county, as well as the county's General Plan, thus giving the Airport Land Use Commission a measure of control over local planning.

San Mateo county's Airport Land Use Commission has already been alerted to the proposed rules, and has submitted a letter of comment, but is expected to make further objections at its next meeting.

Dr. Maurice Garbel, noise consultant to South San Francisco and other communities, told the local Commission that he was frightened by the power outlined in the proposed rules, and disturbed by the definitions contained in them.

The State Board's authorization to set up rules for the county's Airport Land Use Commission, which were established by the Legislature, arises out of Assemblywoman March Fong's AB 2357, which was signed into law October 14, 1971.

That Act, according to San Mateo County planning aide Eugene Masciarelli, requires the State Board of Aeronautics to "further and protect the public interest in aviation," by "zoning for compatible land uses in the vicinity of all new airports, and in the vicinity of existing airports to the extent that the land is already devoted to noncompatible uses."

Existing rules allow Airport Land Use Commissions to veto construction of dwellings within noisy areas near airports, but allow cities or counties to overrule these vetoes by a four-fifths vote.

Monday, meeting in Sacramento, members of the almost unknown State Board of Aeronautics were told that proposed standards had been prepared for their consideration. Public comments should be sought, said Department Director Joseph Crotti, and perhaps public hearings held, before adoption "in August or September."

To achieve the goals stated by Assemblywoman Fong's bill, the law requires airport land use commission compliance with "such standards as the Department of Aeronautics may from time to time adopt."

As written, the new rules for County Airport Land Use Commissions, which operates in San Mateo County as an arm of the Regional Planning Commission, are designed to "preserve valuable transportation resources from uncontrolled encroachment."

The rules establish an "airport area of influence" hitherto unheard of in planning. Dr. Garbel told local Commission members.

They also defined a "comprehensive land use plan," which the San Mateo Board has adopted as a guide for development around airports, but require the county-wide plan include "area plans" developed by "cities or counties whose jurisdiction lies within the planning boundaries established by the Airport Land Use Commission."

Such a requirement is expected to draw fire from the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, which has already publicly declared some concern that the Airport Land Use Commission has too much power and too little direction or control from the county.

Dr. Garbel said the dangerous portions of the proposed new rules are the definitions, which he said are not in conformity with standard descriptions such as used by the Federal Aviation Administration, or various planning agencies.

For instance, he said the rules establish a definition of "high rise apartments" as buildings of "four stories or more," and say these shall not be permitted within certain areas near airports. Such a ruling, that four stories equals high rise, is used nowhere else, he said.

Another of the descriptions he objected to, said Dr. Garbel, was the definition of "airport" as "any area of land or water which is used or intended for use, for the landing or take-off of aircraft and any appurtenant areas which are used, or intended for use, for airport buildings or other airport facilities or rights of way, and all airport buildings and facilities located thereon."

Such a definition, he said, would give an Airport Land Use Commission control over zones around properties distant from the landing fields, but on which airport accessory buildings or navigational aids might be located.

Crotti said last week that 20 to 25 comments on the proposed standards had been received before the May 5 deadline, and said there had been several requests for an extension of time to submit comments.

Hearty Breakfasts for Weekends

Breakfast, often ordinary or even overlooked, can begin the day in fine fashion if given half a chance. Unusually hand-capped by routine menu and rushed dining, the morning meal can come into its own on the weekend.

Baked Bean Additions To Picnics

Baked bean dishes are great for picnics or barbecue-mates. Try these new versions — Swedish Brown Beans and Buckaroo Beans.

Dry beans and split peas are being highlighted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service as the Plentiful Foods — to Feature the week of May 20-26.

SWEDISH BROWN BEANS
2 pounds brown or pinto beans soaked in 12 cups water
4 teaspoons salt
4 tablespoons cooking oil
8 slices bacon, cut in 1-inch pieces
1 cup diced onion
1 clove garlic, sliced
1/4 teaspoon coarse-grind black pepper
1/4 cup light molasses
1 cup catsup
3 shakes of Tabasco sauce
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
1/2 cup cider vinegar
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
3 tablespoons cornstarch mixed with 1/4 cup water
Add salt and oil to beans and soaking water. Cover tightly and cook 2 hours or until tender. Mix together remaining ingredients. Add to cooked beans, stirring carefully to avoid breaking beans. Cook slowly, covered, for 15 minutes or longer; or place in a 325 degree oven for 1 1/4 hours. Serve hot. The flavor improves with standing and reheating. Serves 15 to 18.

BUCKAROO BEANS
1 pound pink, red or pinto beans soaked in 6 cups water
1 large onion, coarsely chopped
2 garlic cloves, sliced
1 bay leaf
1/2 pound smoked ham, salt pork or slab bacon
2 cups solid-pack tomatoes
1/2 cup green pepper, chopped
2 teaspoons chili powder
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon crushed oregano or ground cumin seed
Salt to taste
Cut ham in 1/2-inch cubes, salt pork (salt washed off) or slab bacon sliced twice each way to rind. Add to beans and soaking water along with onion, garlic and bay leaf. Bring to boiling point; cover tightly. Cook over low heat 1 1/2 hours or until beans are almost tender. Add remaining ingredients except salt. Allow to simmer, covered for 2 hours. Stirring occasionally. Before serving, taste and add salt as needed. Serves 8 to 10.

Meatless Menu for Gourmets
For a meatless dish, bring Florentine Haddock con Mandorlas to the table.
Florentine usually indicates spinach in a dish, and this recipe uses almonds, too. The other important element in addition to the Haddock itself is a rich Bechamel sauce. Put them all together as the easy recipe directs for an elegant, highly nutritious main dish.
A green salad and a simple fruit dessert will complete the meal.

Florentine Haddock con Mandorlas
1 package (1 lb.) frozen haddock fillets
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup margarine or butter
2 tablespoons flour
2 egg yolks
1 cup light cream
Pinch of ground nutmeg
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Cooked spinach, drained
1/4 cup toasted slivered almonds
Place frozen block of fish in rectangular baking dish. Sprinkle with 1/2 teaspoon margarine. Cover and bake at 375 degrees 40 minutes. Uncover, baste with pan liquid, and bake 20 minutes longer. Meanwhile, melt remaining margarine in saucepan; blend in flour. Beat egg yolks with cream and remaining salt; stir into butter mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened but not boiling. Stir in nutmeg and lemon juice. Place fish on warm serving platter; spoon spinach around fish. Pour sauce over fish and sprinkle with almonds.
Makes four servings.

Bacon Parfaits
6 slices Canadian-style bacon, cut 1/2 inch thick
1 1/4 teaspoons prepared mustard
6 pineapple slices
6 cling peach halves
6 slices (3 to 4-inch squares) mozzarella cheese
Spread each slice Canadian-style bacon with 1/4 teaspoon prepared mustard. Arrange slices of pineapple in baking pan. Place a slice of Canadian-style bacon on each pineapple slice and top with a cling peach

Panfried Pork Chops
4 to 8 pork chops, cut 1/2 inch thick
1 tablespoon lard or drippings
Pan fry pork chops in hot fat in large frying-pan over moderate heat for 10 to 12 minutes or until done, turning occasionally. Do not overcook. Remove to hot platter. Season. 2 to 4 servings.

Sausage Quiche
1 pound pork sausage
1 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 third cup lard
2 to 4 tablespoons ice water
3 eggs
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 cup grated Swiss cheese half placed cut side down. Arrange a piece of cheese on each peach half. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes or until cheese is melted. 6 servings.

1 1/2 cups milk
To prepare pastry: mix 1 cup flour and salt and cut in lard until crumbs are about the size of small peas. Add ice water, a little at a time, mixing quickly and evenly with a fork until dough just holds in a ball. Use as little water as possible. Roll pastry to about 1/4 inch thickness and line a 9-inch pie pan, allowing 1/2 inch pastry to extend over edge. Turn overhang under or over and crimp edge. Separate 1 egg, reserving yolk. Beat white until frothy and brush pastry with it. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 minutes. To prepare filling while crusts is baking: brown pork sausage slowly. Pour off drippings and stir 1 tablespoon flour into sausage. Sprinkle grated cheese on bottom of pastry and add browned sausage. Combine reserved egg yolk with remaining 2 eggs and beat until well mixed. Beat in milk and carefully pour egg-milk mixture over sausage. Return to oven and bake 30 to 35 minutes.

Salmon Pasta
Try saucing salmon with a yogurt sauce to top off a dish of steaming spaghetti for one of the many nourishing, yet economical dishes that can be quickly made from a can of salmon.
Spaghetti With Salmon Yogurt Sauce
1/2 cup butter (1 stick)
1/4 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
1/4 cup sliced green onions
1 pound can salmon with liquid
3 tablespoons dry white wine or chicken stock
8 ounce container plain yogurt
1 teaspoon flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
12 ounces enriched spaghetti
In saucepan melt half the butter. Add mushrooms and onions and cook over low heat until vegetables are just tender. Add salmon, wine or chicken stock and simmer for 3 minutes.
Combine yogurt, flour and seasonings. Stir into mixture in skillet and cook, stirring, for 3 minutes longer.
Meanwhile cook spaghetti according to package directions. Drain, toss with remaining 4 tablespoons butter and serve with the salmon sauce poured over it.
Serves 4.

Two Escape Police Trap; Shots Fired

Two men escaped in a hail of bullets from a trap set for them Thursday by State and Federal narcotic agents, and police from South San Francisco and Burlingame.

Under arrest, on a charge of possession of cocaine for sale, are Ernie Michael Zito, 100 Spruce Ave., and Vaughan Anderson, 103 Spruce Ave., of South San Francisco, both 19 years old. Their two companions are still being sought today, police report.

In seeking the two other men, Burlingame police raided an apartment at 1060 Carolan Ave., in Burlingame, and arrested Anna Webb, 22, on a charge of possession of marijuana. They failed to find the two fugitives but they did find a ceramic jar full of marijuana, according to Burlingame police.

According to police, federal undercover officers had been working on the case for some time. On Wednesday night, undercover agents went to the apartment of Michael Webb in Burlingame to purchase a pound of cocaine. The purchase fell through. Last night, at 6:30 p.m., they went to Anderson's apartment in South San Francisco and completed purchase of one pound of cocaine for $14,000.

Federal and local officers moved in to make their arrests — and that is when the shooting began. Police report that one man took out a pistol and began firing. He and one companion fled on foot, and managed to disappear in the maze of alleys and backyards.

Officers report that they confiscated a total of $30,000 worth of cocaine at the apartment.

Drop Plans For Election Of Employees

Plans have been called off for a representational election among the 300 South San Francisco city employees. City Manager Gale Dreisbach reported yesterday.

Employe representatives, he said, have agreed upon the five employe representational units, and no dispute now exists, thus no election is necessary, according to city ordinance.

The South San Francisco Municipal Employees Assn. has affiliated with the Marine Engineers Beneficial Assn., which has in turn formed a joint council with the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO.

The South San Francisco Police Assn. will represent two employe units — both the police and the non-sworn personnel who work in the police department. This settles a dispute which arose when Dreisbach at first placed the non-sworn personnel with Unit 4, for purpose of the election which is represented by the Municipal Employees Assn. A protest from the non-sworn personnel resulted in the council creating a unit of their own for the non-sworn personnel.

The International Association of Fire Fighters of America AFL-CIO will continue to represent the fire department.

The City Council will be asked this Monday to adopt a resolution confirming these employe representational units.

Dreisbach issued a notice of formal recognition of these units last Monday. Under state law, should no protest be filed within 10 days, the election will not have to be held.

S.S.F. Man Sought in Holdup Try

Burlingame police are seeking a young South San Francisco man for questioning about the thwarted hold-up of the Velvet Turtle restaurant on May 13.

Lloyd George Kenney, 22, is being sought because a small red sports car registered to his father, was reported seen both at the Velvet Turtle in Burlingame, and at the scene of an armed robbery at Albertson's market in San Mateo the same night.

Young Kenney, a resident of 312 Susie Way, South San Francisco, was said to have been driving the red car.

He is described as five feet, ten inches tall, weighing 165 pounds, with brown eyes and black hair worn in "afro" style.

A young man fitting such a description was reported by witnesses at both the Velvet Turtle and Albertson's robberies, police say.

$39,400,000 Airport Fund

A $39.4 million supplemental appropriation to expand terminal buildings at San Francisco International Airport was approved last week by the city's Airports Commission.

If approved by San Francisco Supervisors, $36.4 millions will come from previously approved revenue and general obligation bonds, and $3 million from airport operating revenues.

It will be spent on $26 millions worth of passenger terminal area construction, $7 millions worth of engineering and planning, and $3 million worth of airfield improvements.

Airport Deputy Director Thomas Bertken told Airport Commissioners last week that $11.7 millions would go into building the new North Terminal, and $4 million would buy a new waste water treatment plant for industrial sewage.

Planned projects include a new central air conditioning plant that will heat and cool all three passenger terminal buildings, new storm drains for some runways, and a noise monitoring system that may cost $5 million.

Bertken told commissioners that the airport staff would be seeking approval of the individual projects as they come up within the coming year. Some work will be going for bid by mid-summer, he said.

In approving the expansion projects, Commissioners also accepted the final draft of a "environmental impact report" on airport expansion.

Deputy Director Bertken said the final impact report has two major deletions over previous plans.

The expected filling of the "seaplane harbor" at the north edge of the airfield has been

D.C. Holdup Nets $1,500

A well-dressed man in his mid-thirties calmly walked into the Beneficial Finance Corporation offices at 30 Park Plaza Drive in Daly City May 15 and politely informed Manager Ron Adams, talking on the telephone to a client, to "please hang up."

After ordering Adams and an unidentified female employee into a back room the man, armed with a revolver, cleaned out the cash drawers and strolled out of the office shortly after 4 p.m.

The gunman was described as 5-foot-9, 165 pounds and wearing casual clothing, including a zippered jacket.

It was believed that the man fled with some $1,500.
